

Multi-million Dollar Complex For County Services Gains Momentum

By FRANK LAPIERRE

Plans for construction of a multi-million-dollar combination courthouse, county service complex and school district administration building in Daly City are gaining momentum according to City Manager Edward Frank.

The complex would be spread around the new city hall in the proposed Commercial Office (C-O) zoned neighborhood, and would (hopefully) include a superior court, mental health, tax collector, licensing, recorder, coroner and probation department, in addition to administrative offices of the Jefferson Union School District, Frank said.

He denied rumors and an erroneous report appearing in a North County newspaper Sunday that the city had offered space in the new city hall for any county facilities.

In a letter to County Manager E. R. Stallings, last January 31, Frank said:

"The new city hall complex is nearing completion and occupation will take place in April.

On April 3, 1964 and on July 2, 1964, letters were written requesting county consideration and budget provision for construction of county facilities in Daly City to accommodate county services for this area, including Pacifica, Colma and Broadmoor."

More than 100,000 tax-paying residents live in the area outlined by Frank.

Last year the area paid more than $2.5 million to the county in taxes "for various services which we do not get in proper proportion to the amount paid," Frank pointed out.

The city and high school district own some 20 lots around the new city hall. Frank thinks this would be sufficient to start the county-school-city complex.

"Now is the time to get moving on this," Frank said. "The new budget is being drawn up right now—and, as an added incentive, the high school district is interested in participating right now."

He said members of the city council were "very receptive" to the complex and "it's only a matter of getting our minds together so we can be on our way within a year or two."

In his reply to Frank's letter, Stallings said the possibility of a joint-venture between the county and school district for construction "of necessary facilities" was "indeed an intriguing one."

Stallings said a detailed review of activities which might be shifted to Daly City from Redwood City would be concluded within several weeks.

"At that time I will be in touch with you for further consideration," Stallings said.

Since last month the Jefferson Union High School District has sent out "feelers" regarding the possibility of executing a long-term lease for a suitable building in the civic center complex area.

District Superintendent Edward Morgan said he concurred with Frank's statements concerning the county service center and other facilities.

"Since 1956 my offices have been located in the Westlake Shopping Center. If the county were to construct a building in the area of Daly City's new community center, our district would be most interested in discussing with you the possibility of your constructing for us district office space," Morgan said.

Morgan acknowledged the district owned four lots near the city hall and believed the lots could be made a part of a high school district-county arrangement.

Intermediate Pupil Bussing For Pacifica

Laguna Salada Union School District officials have decided to bus intermediate students from several Pacifica schools because of heavy class loads at some of the schools, Roy Carver, director of pupil personnel, reported Tuesday night.

Carver said swelling classes in the intermediate grades at Cabrillo, Pedro Valley, Sanchez and Sharp Park schools "were creating difficult teaching situations."

Also, the district was in danger of having a penalty attached to its income from the state, Carver said.

"The penalty would have amounted to about $17,000," he said.

The penalty is computed on a complicated formula including such factors as the average class size of the previous year, district growth rate and the amount of state aid received for each child in the district.

In order to avoid the penalty and other undesirable results of overcrowded classes, the district decided to establish two new classes.

One of the classes, a fourth and fifth grade combination, has been placed in the Pacific Heights School and the other, a fifth and sixth grade combination, in the Sharp Park School.

The district is now transporting students from classes with more than 32 children to the new classes.

"In addition, all new students registered in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades who reside in the southern portion of the city, with the exceptions of Ortega and Linda Mar, will be transported to the newly established classes," Carver said.

Ethics Report Support

The executive board of the Jefferson Elementary School District Council of P-TA's endorsed recommendations of the ethics study recently conducted in Daly City.

More than 40 principals and P-TA presidents comprise the executive board of the district.

Mrs. Jack Mitchell, president of the P-TA Council, made the motion agreeing to support a resolution of the administrative group which earlier accepted in ethics probe.

The motion came during a special meeting held Tuesday morning at the district offices in Daly City.

"What we want now from both the board (of trustees) and the superintendent is action," Mrs. Harlett O'Neill said, following the meeting.

In the joint statement of the administrative group, which includes teachers' organizations, the board of trustees, the central administration and the P-TA, it was noted the "effectiveness of the local educational program is necessarily a joint responsibility of all concerned."

Hossli (right) and bank president P. Evert Terminello watch approvingly. Hossli said the city would maintain an average balance of some $300,000 at the bank under the new system. The move to consolidate the city's commercial account, instead of deposits at four different banks as in the past, was expected to reduce costs through simplified bookkeeping, according to Lewkowitz.

Deaf Offered Summer Study

Deaf students in the Jefferson Elementary School District will be able to attend summer sessions in Burlingame.

Jefferson trustees in Daly City recently authorized an agreement with the Burlingame School District to send the deaf pupils to the summer school.

Councilmen in D.C. Favor Tighter Curb On Home Business

Daly City councilmen and city staff have just completed a long hard look at the home occupation and favor tightening up the ordinance—not wiping the small businesses out altogether.

During a council session this week, councilman Edward Dennis said he would support a proposed revision to the home occupation ordinance which would "keep it under restrictive measures and more controls."

The subject of home occupations has been discussed by the city for the past several months.

A few persons concerned with the matter favored outlawing all home occupations and then "look the other way" at certain occupations—such as washing, ironing, sewing and similar limited businesses.

With the home occupation allowances completely off the books, the city would be able to step in and close any business that "got out of line, anytime the need arose," a member of the city staff explained.

Public hearings on the matter have ended, however the Planning Commission has taken no action on the matter because of a request received from the city council, who want to study the proposed amendments further before making any moves.

Both mayor Bernard Dycett and councilman Frank Pacelli favor the "more restrictive" amendment rather than abolishment of the ordinance.

Under the proposed revision, the Planning Commission would make determinations on each request. Business licenses would also be required.

Meanwhile, the council this week moved to draft a resolution asking the State to complete construction work on the Cabrillo Highway.

Fears that "pressures" centering around highway 186 between Pacifica, San Bruno and the International Airport, might delay completion of the Cabrillo Highway were expressed by staff members.

The Cabrillo roadway has been prepared and is ready for surfacing, city engineer Art Reschke said.

Unless the roadway is topped in the near future, it will deteriorate from the weather, the engineer explained.

A limited state budget might force a shift of funds away from the Cabrillo to the proposed route 186 because of pressure from "certain concerned groups."

The Cabrillo Highway and route 186 are both State projects.

Store Robber Gets $2,000

Two gunmen held up the Cala Foods store on Hillside Boulevard in Daly City Sunday and fled on foot with some $2,000.

A store clerk said the pair—one armed with a snub-nosed revolver and his accomplice armed with a standard-sized revolver—walked up to the check-out stand around 9:30 p.m.

Brandishing their guns, they ordered the clerk to stuff all the cash from his register into a brown paper bag.

The gunmen then fled on foot to the store's upper parking lot where police suspect a car was waiting.

Witnesses described the men as "clean-looking."

Less than a month ago, a pair of "shabbily dressed" men entered the store shortly before closing time and held up the checkstand attendant.

A late shopper startled the pair in the act of cleaning out a second register and they fled into a waiting car.

A Rash Of Burglaries In Daly City

An epidemic of home burglaries swept through Daly City over the weekend, keeping police units scurrying from one crime scene to another almost hourly.

The crime wave prompted Police Lt. Thomas R. Culley to issue an alert bulletin describing methods of operation concerning the burglaries and warning officers to approach suspects with extreme caution.

A pistol was stolen during a robbery at the David W. Ratto home on Alta Vista Drive Saturday, along with an undetermined amount of cash. (Please See Page 3, Col. 3)

Bruno Opposes Cemetery Expansion

San Bruno Mayor Karney Barberian said this week he opposes the Defense Department's announced plans to expand Golden Gate National Cemetery because the plans "represent only a stopgap measure."

"I see no benefit to be derived from extending the cemetery's operations for another two or three years," Barberian said. "They should purchase an adequate site elsewhere and landscape the San Bruno facility as a park."

The mayor said the cemetery, in its present state, "does not fit in with the surrounding residential and commercially zoned neighborhoods."

"I would like to see the present upright markers replaced with flat stone plaques," he said. "This would make the cemetery more compatible with surrounding areas."

Most other San Bruno city officials and veterans' organizations are also opposed to the proposed expansion on grounds it is an inadequate measure and does not meet present and future needs.

Possible expansion plans were disclosed Saturday.

"The action," Congressman J. Arthur Younger said, "is bound to create a major reaction in San Bruno where officials have worked for many years to zone and develop adjacent properties for apartment, shopping center and industrial uses in order to establish a broader tax base in the community."

The announcement was linked with new rules for limiting burials in Arlington National Cemetery to active duty and retired career servicemen, Medal of Honor winners and high government officials such as the president and vice president, congressmen, Supreme Court members and Cabinet members.

The rule takes effect Friday.

There are only 6,437 spaces left at Arlington. This rule will not apply to Golden Gate Cemetery. Younger said that no details are available yet as to the exact property to be acquired, but said it could go south to take in the former Anvansino Mortensen Nursery property.

Consolidated Lands property up to the new Route 186 East-West Freeway to Pacifica; across El Camino Real to take in the old Tanforan property or north into South San Francisco to take in Brentwood residential property in South San Francisco which abuts the cemetery.

Younger has long maintained the position that a new and larger national cemetery should be established in the Camp Parks area near Pleasanton where vast acreage is owned by the government.

This position has been backed by the United Veterans' Coordinating Committee of San Mateo County which is composed of all veterans' organizations in the county, including American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Ambassadors, Marine Corps League, Jewish War Veterans, Spanish-American War Veterans, Veterans of World War II and other service groups.

It has long been felt that the San Bruno property is too congested an area for cemetery purposes and a new cemetery where larger area is available would be more desirable to properly honor the nation's veterans.

Golden Gate Cemetery is the largest national cemetery in Northern California and burial of veterans from throughout the northern part of the state has taxed the limit of the present facilities.

It has been estimated by R. H. Spellman, superintendent of the cemetery, that it will be completely filled by this April. Recently fences were set back in order to make a little more room available.

Masonheimer, armed with a lengthy memo from City Engr. Ken Thompson, under whose jurisdiction the inspection responsibilities were placed, is to so inform the Associated Builders Coastside, which has protested the consolidation.

Thompson last week outlined briefly for the Pacifica City Council his experience as both a licensed engineer and contractor.

He said knowledge of engineering in the inspection field is "essential."

The letter of protest came from Charles Gillingham of the builders' group, which Gillingham said viewed "with alarm" the consolidation of the two departments and the appointment of a junior engineer as an inspector.

Gillingham asked the council not to "shortchange" the construction group by assigning what he called "unqualified" persons to inspection duties.

Masonheimer acknowledged the builders to be "sincere" in their attempts to have high level inspection.

He said he thought this level to be possible under the new arrangement, and that the engineer is "qualified to judge" his inspector's capabilities and the personnel qualifications.

Daly City Youth Tries Government

Daly City's Youth in Government week activities got off to a flying start at Val's Redwood Room with a lunch-meeting attended by city and school officials, chamber of commerce members and 13 enthusiastic government "opposites."

The "opposites" were selected from Jefferson and Westmoor High Schools to serve in various positions on the city government during the week.

Mayor Bernard "Bud" Lycett, in welcoming the students, called them the "future leaders of tomorrow" and pointed out "someday many of you here today will be called upon to serve in various P-TA groups, service clubs and other organizations."

"These are but a few of the duties destined for you young people seated here today," Lycett said.

Councilman Michael R. DeBernardi said, "It is a pity that people past your age do not take the same interest in city government as you have shown."

The Youth in Government

Week luncheon was first established in 1960 by Councilman Frank Pacelli.

In his address to the youth at the luncheon Pacelli told them of the responsibilities that lay ahead for them in such fields as education, lawmaking and communicating news, and said "students must separate facts from fantasy" in their respective fields.

Pacelli concluded his speech by informing the students "today we need good young people to lead us tomorrow."

Students participating in the Youth-Government program were:

Richard Esposto (mayor, Westmoor), Thomas Torlakson (council, Westmoor), Michele Bigon (council, Westmoor), John Moore (council, Jefferson), Charles Gerugthy (council, Jefferson);

Joe Torres (city manager, Jefferson), Daryl Rideau (librarian, Jefferson), Ron Caserza (fire chief, Jefferson), Janet Johnson (city clerk, Jefferson), Sue Wong (finance director, Jefferson);

Muriel Friedman (treasurer, Westmoor), Don Zimmerman (attorney, Westmoor), Richard Thill (engineer, Westmoor), Kathleen McGenity (police chief, Westmoor) and Cheryl Thomson (recreation director.)

Stepdaughter Charge Jails San Bruno

A San Bruno man was arrested in South San Francisco Saturday and charged with attacking his 13-year-old stepdaughter.

Milis Leo Aycock, 39, an unemployed carpenter, was arrested after the girl told police he sexually assaulted her in their home at 22 Pacifica Avenue Friday.

The girl told police the attack occurred between 1:30 and 2 p.m. while her mother was away at work.

South San Francisco Police Officer Keith Fazackerley arrested Aycock in a Grand Avenue bar Saturday morning on a warrant from San Bruno authorities.

He was turned over to San Mateo County Sheriff's authorities, and booked into the county jail at Redwood City.

Aycock will be arraigned Tuesday in Northern District Judicial Court.

Bruno Rail Spur Removal Being Sought

The California Highway Commission is seeking to eliminate a short spur line of the Southern Pacific Railway tracks in San Bruno in order to lower elevation of the proposed Route 186 freeway over the area, planning commissioners said.

The state is seeking to have a spur line on the east side of the Tanforan site near Forest Lane terminated north of the proposed freeway route.

Under the highway department's proposal, a loading zone would be created north of the freeway route.

Planning commissioners gave tentative approval to the proposal, "pending the highway department's completing arrangements with Southern Pacific."

Housewife Charges Lack Of Fairmont Recreation

By WILL THOMAS

A Pacifica housewife last week charged some Fairmont region parents with child neglect, and the city with failure to provide adequate recreational facilities for youngsters in the 11- to 13-year-old bracket.

Mrs. Fran Chapman said the area was one of "emotionally disturbed children."

"They're wild," she declared. Appearing at the meeting of city councilmen in Pacifica, she charged that there is "absolutely nothing (for the youngsters) to do after school."

She noted in the same breath that the parents — she didn't mention names or other specifics — work and no one is "home to feed them." And, they congregate on the streets at night, she asserted.

She said there "is no one to give adult supervision" and there are inadequate recreation facilities in Fairmont.

Apparently because their parents are unable to participate, these youngsters are not permitted to join youth groups, such as the Boy Scouts, Mrs. Chapman declared.

In regard to the city's recreational program, she explained that transportation is unavailable to the children so that they might participate.

"There is no way to get anywhere," she said.

Further, Mrs. Chapman pointed out that "no one wants to answer" her letters. Listening to comment, she later acknowledged she had been addressing, apparently, her correspondence to the improper persons.

She said San Andreas School officials had referred her to Fairmont, which she alleged has no recreational program.

Mayor Harland Minshew explained that he shared her "concern," but that he thought parents of such "neglected" youngsters should participate.

"There are areas," the mayor emphasized, where "parents must have responsibility. Local government cannot become babysitters."

He added that if she is able to substantiate her charges of child neglect City Mgr. C. W. Masonheimer would notify proper authorities.

The over-all problem was referred to Masonheimer, who is expected to outline existing recreational facilities and programs available through the city and to inform the Fairmont Homeowners' Association of the situation as Mrs. Chapman sees it.

D.C. Mayor Cites Scout Leaders Work

Theme of this year's Boy Scout Week, marking the 57th anniversary of their founding, is "Scouting rounds a guy out."

Last week, 13 Bay Area municipalities inaugurated Boy Scout Week by honoring 900 top scout leaders with hand delivered citations from their local councilmen.

Daly City Mayor Bernard "Bud" Lycett drafted 34 citations to be distributed among local scout leaders testifying to each leader's contributions of scouting.

After receiving the citations and freshly-cut flowers (for the leader's wife) each scout fanned out and simultaneously began delivering the citations.

As one scout handed the leader his citation from the mayor, another presented the wife with beautiful carnations as a token of appreciation for her interest, cooperation and (from time to time) tasty sandwiches sampled on various outings.

In his letter, Mayor Lycett said: "Our sincere wishes that you will continue to be of service to the boys of our city and that you will prosper with them so that they truly will find 'scouting rounds a guy out' in 1967 and in the years to come."

The personnel standards and ethics commission report asked the board to resolve problems facing the district or immediately resign.

A similar offer was extended to Supt. Frank Greenwood in the report.

Water Rates Increased

Officials of the North Coast County Water District announced an increase in water rates for the City of Pacifica this week.

Minimum water rates will go up 50 cents, and unit rates after the first 500 cubic feet will be increased .05 cents.

The company said rate increases were necessary because of increasing construction and maintenance costs. It is the first rate increase since 1955.

Brotherhood Week Rites This Sunday

National Brotherhood Week will be observed at the two worship services this Sunday at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, 377 - 87th Street, Daly City.

The Rev. Robert Beech will preach the sermon at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock worship services. He is on the staff of the National Council of Churches in co-ordinating the work of the Delta Ministry in the state of Mississippi and surrounding areas.

This ministry is to assist in constructive advances in the area of racial relationships. Reverend Beech is a Presbyterian minister and is soon to be announced as the winner of the Bruce Klunder Memorial Award for 1967.

The annual award is made by the Presbyterian Interracial Council for one who has done outstanding work nationally in human relationships. Rev. Herbert C. Tweedie, the local pastor, invites the public to attend these services and the coffee times which will follow.

Infant care is provided during both services as well as two Sunday schools for children and youth.

Study Asked On Proposed School Site

Jefferson Elementary School District administrators last week urged architectural studies to determine if a consulting engineer's recommendations on a proposed school site south of Thornton Beach Road, Daly City, can be met.

A report from Woodward, Clyde, Sheppard and Associates determined that an 8½-acre site west of Skyline Freeway would suffice as a school site.

Administrators wanted authorization for the firm of Angus McSweeney, architects, to conduct the "studies to determine whether or not the recommendations (of the engineer) can be complied with."

If the architectural survey showed the engineering recommendations could be met, the school board should take "the necessary steps to acquire the property in question in the foreseeable future," the administration stated.

Supt. Frank Greenwood said the construction of an additional school to serve pupils west of Skyline would spell the end of daily busing to another facility east of Skyline.

The alternative, Greenwood pointed out, is "permanent busing."

He pointed to figures that at the present time there is in excess of 2,000 kindergarten to sixth grade children west of Skyline, while there is housing for only about 740 youngsters at the F. D. Roosevelt School on that side of the freeway.

The property presently is owned by the State, which "appears willing to dispose of it," the superintendent said.

wanting to move up into the mountains for a long time, and this is a good opportunity."

He said he purchased a parcel of land in the Lake Tahoe area several months ago, with the intention of building a home there. He is married and has five children.

Wootan will join the security staff at Harrah's Tahoe.

Largest haul made during the "epidemic" was from the Jack Choy home on MacDonald Avenue shortly before 11 p.m. Sunday night.

The burglar forced his way into the home through a side window and fled with some $1,360 in jewelry and cash via the front door.

Other burglaries reported to Daly City police last weekend included:

John W. Gettman, Ardenale Drive, $15 in cash.

D. R. Chevalier, Ardenale Drive, an undetermined loss due to absence of homeowner.

Thomas Carroll Jessup, Ardenale Drive, $20 in pennies and a man's watch. Value $100.

Robert E. Hyman, Glenbrook Avenue, $17 in cash.

Thelma A. Baker, Ardenale Drive, house was ransacked and some $30 in assorted coins stolen.

Wayne A. Watson, Calarinada Street, $30 in coins lost.

Katina Hoogstad, Lakeshore Boulevard, portable TV set.

Dorothy Hodge, Edgemar Avenue, three watches, one pendant watch and $28 cash.

George Norsworthy, Mar Vista Drive, camera valued at $60.

In most cases the burglar entered the homes through side or basement windows he had forced open. On one occasion entry was made through an open garage door.

D.C. Citizens Group Meets

A North County citizens' group — the Committee for Ethics in Public Education — met last week to plan for selection of candidates in the upcoming April school board trustees' election.

Two chairs on the Jefferson Elementary School District Board will be open during the forthcoming race.

Deadline for filing is March 3. During yesterday's meeting, the Daly City group elected permanent officers. Emile Tenuo was chosen chairman and Mrs. James Parker was named secretary.

In other action, the committee received a preliminary report from its eight-member "screening panel" set up earlier to select possible candidates for both the elementary district and high school district races.

Panel Chairman Robert Hunter announced interviews of interested candidates are now being set up.

TRICKS OF THE TRADE

Every good decorator has his own tricks of the trade—the little things that make such a big difference in giving your room or home the look you want it to have. Here are a few of them.

If you have a wire or pipe, or anything else that you want to conceal on a wall, the best thing to do is paint it the same color as the wall—and so, it naturally follows that if you want something to stand out in a room, such as a chair or window drape or whatever, use a vivid, contrasting color.

To avoid the monotony of a solid wall of books, remove some of the books here and there and put a vase of flowers and a few well-selected knickknacks in their place.

Even such little things as ashtrays can make a great difference in a room. Instead of "nothing" ashtrays, use something like colorful ceramics as accent pieces.

Are you embarrassed when a few extra people drop in and you're unable to seat or serve them? Always keep a supply of folding chairs and folding snack tables on hand for these emergencies.

Those are a few ideas—and remember we are always at your service for furniture and accessories; we invite you to come in and browse around our store with no obligation. You'll find no high pressure at our store. Just a friendly atmosphere and good merchandise. Our decorators, here at Sterling Furniture in Westlake Shopping Center, are at your service no matter what your decorating problem may be. We are open Wednesday and Friday evenings 'til 9 p.m. for your shopping convenience or call PL 6-7500.

NORMALLY, IT DOESN'T grow on trees, but in the case of this tree being decorated by Pacifica Federated Women's Club members (clockwise from top left) Maryls Matheus, Frances Morais, Nita Lester and Bernetta McKay, the blossoms will be "Federal Green." The Money Tree will be the feature of a fund-raising raffle to be held at the Pacifica fashion show on February 26. The raffle and fashion show are being held to raise money for scholarships for graduating Oceana and Terra Nova High School seniors.

Capuchino Presenting First Art Exhibition This Week

In past years the Capuchino art department has produced many pieces of skillful art work that few people including the students of Capuchino and the general public have seen.

This year under the direction of art instructor Stanley Grosse, the art classes have decided to do something about the talent that otherwise would have gone unnoticed.

Capuchino is presenting the first of its annual art exhibitions on February 16 and 17 from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. and on the night of February 16 from 7 to 9 p.m.

This year's production, entitled "Do Not Cross a Menthel Zebra," a painting exhibition, will go on display in the art wing of Capuchino High School and will consist of 80 to 100 pieces of art work.

The paintings are by first, second, third and fourth-year art students, and are comprised of highly realistic to abstract, hard edge to painterly techniques done in oils, acrylics, enamels, tempera, and ink drawings.

A jury of faculty members will judge the work on the basis of awards of merit.

Some of the students who will have their paintings on display are:

Third year, Dave Estus and Nancy Lewis.

Second year, Damon Paoli, Kathy Pruett and Nella Perez.

First year, Larry Camilleri, Nancy Winter, Mike McHugh, Audrey Smith, Judy Podalsky and Jim Davini.

'Think Pieces'

Le Pacini

Last week we reprinted one or two sports "think" pieces by Terra Nova (now of CSM) athlete-sports editor Steve Wilson. What follows is the one we last week called the philosophy — or what the philosophy SHOULD be — of prep sports competition, at least as it's seen by Wilson.

We wish to make it clear that we are not taking a personal position here. There is a flip side to every philosophy, and Wilson's theory is certainly open to an effective counter-argument. We reprint this simply because we feel it's a point well and significantly taken by an ex-high school athlete who's had the opportunity to test both schools of thought.

"WEBSTER'S NEW COLLEGIATE dictionary defines the word 'sport' as: 'That which diverts, and makes mirth; pastime; diversion.' It has come to mind that the thing called 'sport' could be dangerous to associate with on the high school level.

"... When I use the word dangerous I don't mean physical danger, but philosophical danger.

"Going back to our elementary school days, we participated in various sports for one three-lettered reason... 'fun'.

"We played... on the fields of Linda Mar, Pedro Valley and Sanchez schools in our blue jeans until we had to be home for supper. We played just because we wanted to.

"THERE WAS NO PRESSURE put on you to play, but you did anyway. However, time passes and now we are in high school, still participating in sports with no great difference in the idea except one: the pressure put on an athlete to win and the general over-all outlook toward sports.

"Sports are no longer fun but rather traditions to uphold and records to break and also a thing called honor... I won't venture to say that sports are no fun at all anymore, but the idea of what sport is lost in these other things to a point that the real joy of sport is many times completely eluded.

"Speaking from past experience, I know the pressures that are put on the so-called high school 'star.' How the athlete who perhaps started in a sport in his freshman year for the 'fun' of it finds himself overnight a little better than his classmates and is then tagged with the mark of a future 'star.' This is where the pressure begins. The athlete doesn't want to quit because he feels he has an obligation to his team and to his coaches. So from that time on, whatever fun there was in the sport is lost because he is now obligated to produce every time he participates for the tradition of the school and all the other gilded nonsense.

"EVEN WITH THESE LIMITATIONS the athlete will feel a certain amount of pleasure in his sport when he does well because his ego is always there to need nourishment, and may times his hat size is found to go the way of larger numbers.

"Now the budding star has made his place by his fourth year of school as a 'true great.' After all, that's what he hears the coaches say of him when he makes that 85-yard run against the weakest team in the league and once in a while against the strongest team, on a lucky day. He also hears the coaches' caustic remarks when he just couldn't catch that pass when he was wide open, and they, the caustic remarks, hurt the most. It's not easy to forget those, either, when the coaches won't let you forget it until the next week, when your big chance comes once again to prove yourself for the school.

"All this adds up to just one thing, and that is that sports were meant to be fun. Not just the time you made the big play, but fun all the time... There shouldn't be pressure put on the athletes for school tradition and spirit, two things that matter little in the over-all picture of academic life at high school. That is, after all, the reason we go to school, to get an education. I'll grant you that education alone would be very dull without divergences like sports, but high school sports have taken on an importance many times greater than the academic aspects of high school.

"I OFTEN WONDER what happens to the athlete who gets into the big wide world and finds that 85-yard runs are rarely the criteria for a successful life.

"All high school coaches would think back to their sandlot days when they played for just the fun of it, and then apply that principle to their teams. I believe coaches would have so many kids out for sports that they would have to start telling each other how great they are."

OTHER LOCAL NOTES:

DALY CITY, San Francisco State, and Westmoor's Terry Christman, who also pitches, is on the Mets' big team roster this year as a first baseman. He hit .288 at Williamsport last year.

Other "locals" on the Met roster are infielder BUD HARRELSON, who just a couple of years ago was playing shortstop for the San Francisco State Golden Gateers, and outfielder DON BOSCH. Well, actually, he's from San Francisco, but on the other hand, so, technically, is CHRISTMAN, who was born there.

WHICH BRINGS UP an interesting point. Daly City will eventually be put on the national map because of the big move to the "suburbs." Many athletes who eventually may make the big time — such as Christman and Allan Gallagher — are actually native San Franciscans whose parents later moved to Daly City.

Oceana senior Joanne Fix recently finished first in the school's contest for the 1967 Betty Crocker Home-maker of Tomorrow award, which wouldn't have anything to do with sports if Joanne weren't also a karate expert. We were just thinking. She must make a great tossed salad.

PRIVATE BILL CROMAN, an ex-Terra Nova pole vaulter, is going to, guess what? ... jump school, of course, at Fort Benning, Georgia. Only this time he'll be going down instead of up.

TAG ENDS:

That oil company which sponsored the radio broadcast of the Clay-Terrell fight did more damage to boxing public relations than Clay himself with their incessant commercials between every round which didn't allow for a second of color comment or analysis — or ear rest... The San Francisco Olympic Club, which recently dropped wrestling and volleyball from its team participation program, at one time fielded teams for 25 different sports.

N.P.L. Titans to Clash Friday at Westmoor High

By DENNIS KLEIN

Westmoor Correspondent
The "Battle of the Titans" will take place Friday at Westmoor when the Rams take on South San Francisco's mighty Warriors.

This is a "must" game for the Rams, if they intend to stay in contention for the N.P.B. title.

and a Westmoor win would again tie up the race.

Last week, Westmoor completely dominated Half Moon Bay, trouncing the Cougars 77-50.

With Grady Proctor dominating the boards both defensively and offensively, the Cougars were never in the ball game.

Jon Anible and Gary Soules turned in outstanding performances also.

The Rams held their weaker opponents to only two points during the first quarter, and Half Moon Bay never recovered.

High scorers for Westmoor were Soules, 25, Proctor, 14, and Anible, 13. Andy Houston was high for Half Moon Bay with 10 points.

Mad Dash For First Place In North Peninsula League

NPL ROUNDUP

Expect Photo Finish

A mad dash for the finish line is on in the North Peninsula League race with the San Francisco Warriors holding the slimmest of all possible leads over the rest of the pack.

The three front-runners, SSF, Terra Nova and Westmoor, all won Friday, setting the stage for the all-important westmoor-SSF clash next Friday which will decide the title.

The Warriors maintained their league-leading pace with a surprisingly easy 77-64 victory over Jefferson, who had the services of high-scoring guard Willie Redmond for only the second time this season. Redmond however, was of little help to the Indians yesterday against the quick Warrior press and fast break.

Using those two weapons to their fullest degree of effectiveness, the Warriors surged out to leads of 11-1, 19-5, and finally 29-9 after the first quarter. Except for a brief uprising by the Indians in the second period, the game was pretty well decided after that time.

Jefferson managed to close the gap some towards the end of the second period and to as close as the Warriors would allow in the opening minutes of the third period when the score was 42-36, Warriors.

But a quick eight point spurge put the Warriors out of reach. Redmond fouled out in the opening minute of the fourth period and he was followed via the foul route by Warriors Alex Smith and Ron Beall but by then the outcome was not in doubt.

Again it was the play of guard Larry Alsterlind that paved the way for the Warriors. He not only scored 22 points, the fifth consecutive time he has been in double figures, but passed and dribbled and played defense enough to earn praise from coach Bill Purcell.

"Larry is getting better every game," the Warrior coach stated. "I still say he is the best high school passer I have seen and now that he is scoring he can give any other team real problems."

Right after Redmond fouled out the Indians played about 90 seconds without a fifth man as the officials failed to notice his substitute trying vainly to enter the game.

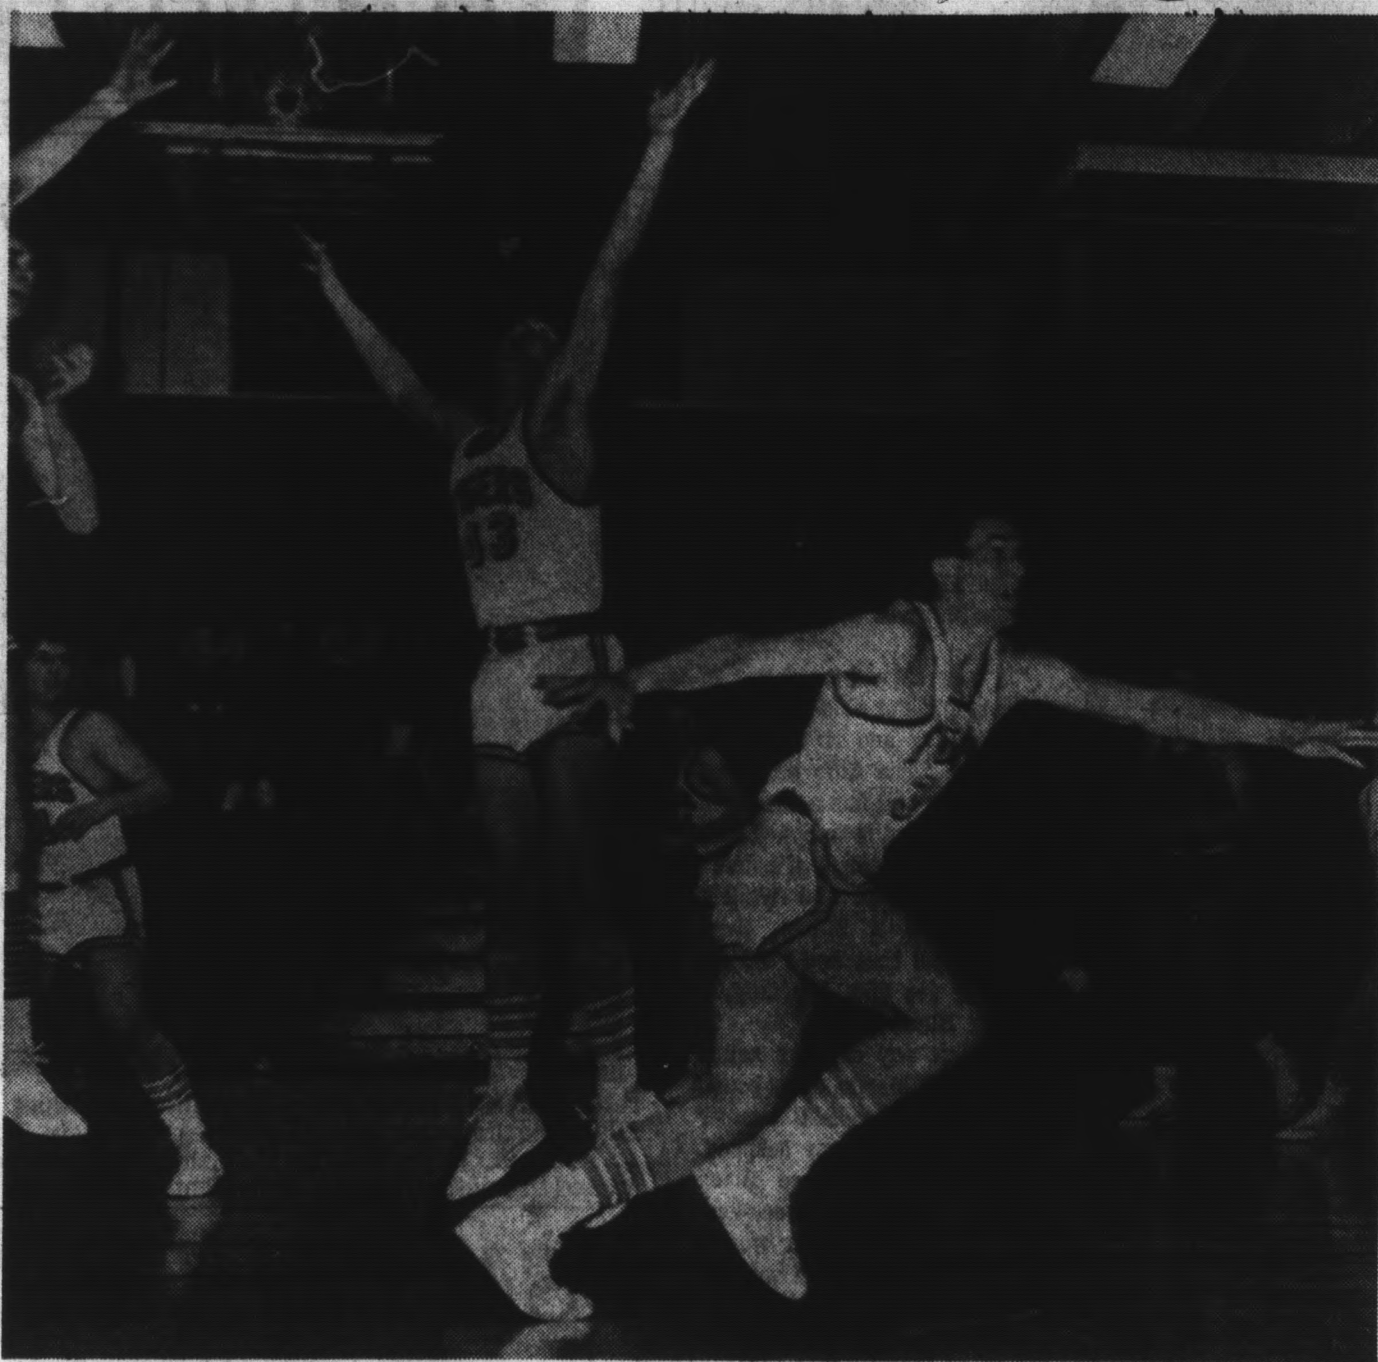

Meanwhile, Terra Nova did it the hard way but stayed within striking distance of first place with a last minute 64-61 victory over rival Oceana High School on the Tiger courts.

Terra Nova trailed most of the way but with just two minutes left in the game Mike Kenny, the money player on the squad, broke a 59-all tie with a driving layin and a free throw for a 62-59 lead.

Then Jim Bresnahan, the league's leading scorer, got the final points of his 27-point effort of the 11 he made, and the Tigers were out of reach. Don Delbon's cagers stalled out the final minute after two free throws by Tim Sershan closed the gap to three points.

"We really pick the difficult way to do things out there," Delbon said after the game. "They scored the wits off of us with their outside shooting."

The two teams played almost opposite games with most of Oceana's scoring coming from the 12-18-foot markers while the Tigers relied on several layins to stay close.

TERRA NOVA'S Mike Kenny made a fast break as Wimmer retrieved a jump ball Friday as the Tigers squeaked by a fired-up Oceana five, 64-61. The Tigers trailed most of the game, and did not take the lead until Kenny broke a 59-59 tie with two minutes left in the final quarter. Jim Bresnahan, the leading scorer in the N.P.L., netted 27 points in the game. (Post Photo)

ASV Athletes Will Perform Feb. 24-25

Twenty-three German basketball and track athletes will wind-up their February tour of California junior colleges at College of San Mateo, February 24 and 25.

CSM will host the Athletic Sport-Verein of Cologne for both days, not just Saturday as announced earlier in tentative plans.

On that Saturday, the ASV will play against CSM in an extra scheduled basketball game at 8 p.m.

Earlier in the day the nine-man, four-woman track team will compete in a 2 p.m. all-comers track meet on the CSM campus. The entire CSM team will make its season debut in the meet, which is open to all athletes, incidentally.

Spectators are invited to attend both international events.

Friday the visitors will tour the CSM campus and the San Mateo area, after lunching on the CSM campus. They plan to see the Chinese New Year celebration in San Francisco that night.

SYMBOLIC of the ancient but friendly rivalry between Westmoor and Jefferson High School is this newly acquired trophy, "Winged Victory," donated to the two schools by Elio Fontana. The trophy will alternate between the two schools on the basis of excellence in varsity athletics.

FISHING AIN'T FUNNY to comedian Johnathan Winters. On a recent six-day jaunt to Panama, Winters (right) and companion James A. Fox, Pacifica City councilman, landed four Black Marlin. Fox was credited with nailing the largest Marlin (370 pounds) on the lightest tackle (50 pound test) while Winters accounted for three slightly smaller Marlins during the pair's stay at the Club de Pesca de Panama on Pinas Bay.

Serious About Fishing

By FRANK LAPIERRE

One of the funniest persons in the world is also one of the most serious—when it comes to fishing, that is!

Once Johnathan Winters sits in his chair aboard a sea-going fishing boat everything about the comedian's devil-may-care character changes and he becomes "another person," according to Pacifica councilman James A. Fox.

Fox and Winters have been fishing companions for several years, pursuing their sport in the far corners of the world.

Recently, Winters and Fox returned from a six-day jaunt to Panama where they both stayed in an 11-acre fishing village some 130 miles from Panama City.

"It was carved right out of the jungle," Fox said in describing the area and its native inhabitants. "The Club de Pesca de Panama still has a firm grip on the past, but is equipped with most of the comforts of home."

Each day Fox and Winters would board a 28-foot, twin-screw diesel boat and head for the open sea and, hopefully, a fighting Black Marlin.

The first day out Fox nailed a 370-pound Marlin on 50-pound test tackle. He lost another fighter when the line snapped.

Winters landed three Black Marlins during the week-long stay, largest of which was a 2.5 pounder brought in with 80-pound test line.

Another companion during the Panama trip was D. B. Wheeler, of Virginia, who successfully landed a 320-pound Marlin using 120-pound test line.

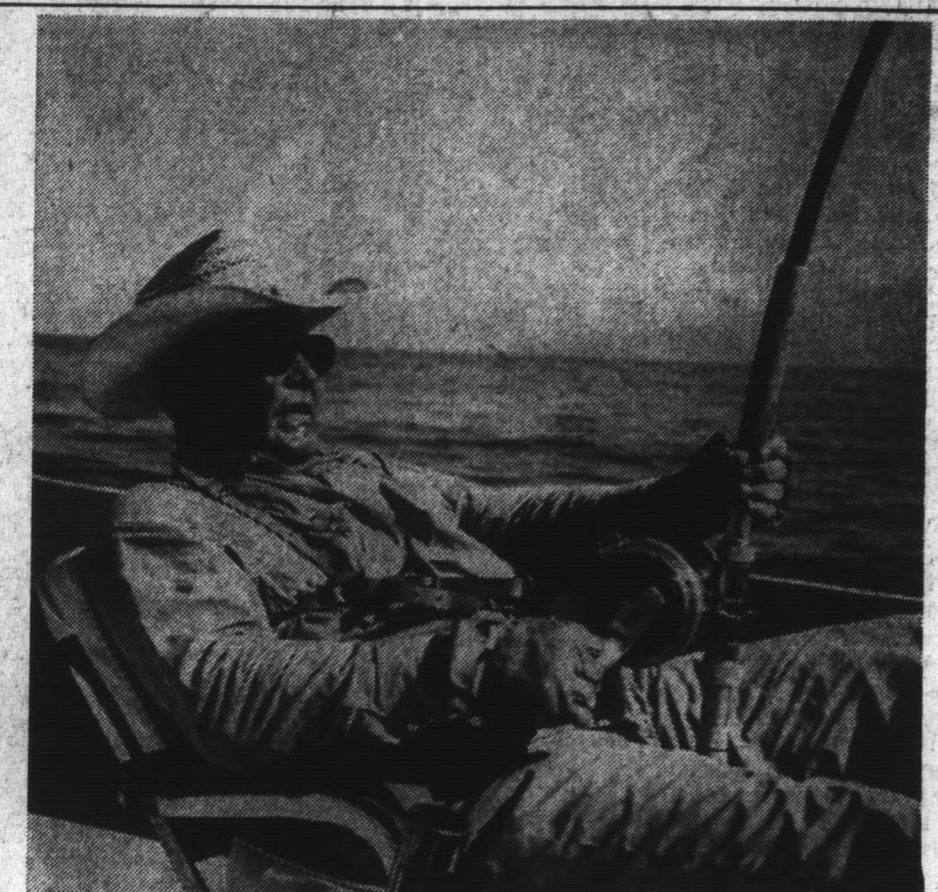

Although Fox's Marlin was the largest, and landed with the lightest tackle, it still did not break any records, the councilman pointed out.

The trio flew via jetliner as far south as Panama City and then transferred onto a converted Navy PBX "Flying Boat" for the short trip to the jungle village.

Fox filmed the entire episode using a variety of cameras and film.

"I shot 2,000 feet of color film, 400 color slides and about 200 black and white photos," Fox said.

Of his fishing adventure, Fox says "It was a lot of fun and I'm already looking forward to going again next year."

A SERIOUS BUSINESS —Comedian Jonathan Winters "sweats out" a Black Marlin he has hooked during a recent six-day fishing trip off the coast of Panama. Winters takes his fishing serious, according to friends. The recent trip netted Winters three fighting Black Marlins.

CSM Baseball Preview

"Pitching has got to be our basic strength," says College of San Mateo coach John Nocerone of his 1967 prospects.

That's almost an understatement as the Bulldogs have back their three top pitchers of last year, including Golden Gate Conference leader Norm Angelini from Serra High and Half Moon Bay. Angelini led the conference with an 8-0 record and a 1.50 E.R.A.

CSM posted a 16-5 GGC record, losing to City College of San Francisco in the final game for the championship. CSF went on to place second to unbeaten Cerritos in the state tournament.

Also back are Mike Young from Aragon High and T.J. Delbex from Westmoor High. Young tied with Angelini for GGC E.R.A. honors at 1.50, while Delbex posted a 5-1 record. The returning trio were San Mateo's top three both record-wise (19-1 overall) and in total innings pitched (221).

CSM was 26-9 overall. Only one other veteran returns, Nick Krnich from Mills High, third line catcher for the Bulldogs last season.

However DSM coach John Nocerone has a great cache of former prep stars around which to mold an offense (although the pitchers also can hit; Young stroked .313 and Delbex .241 during the last campaign).

Players of the year from each of the three San Mateo county prep leagues are on hand, as are all three of Serra's first team all-Catholic Athletic League selections.

Corkey Phelps won top honors in the North Peninsula League, winning all ten of Westmoor's decisions en route to the NPL championship. Nocerone plans to use Phelps' "outstanding arm" in right field this season.

Frank Pignataro was the South Peninsula Athletic League player of the year as a junior and was voted Carmont athlete of the year last season. He's Nocerone's number one shortstop.

Mike Krnich, brother of Nick, was the Mid-Peninsula League's top player last year as a pitcher for Mills. Both he and Nick now live in San Carlos.

Another top pitching prospect is Allan Laganucci from Serra.

When he isn't pitching, Delbex will play right field. Both he and Smith will back up Borelli at first base.

Other outfielders include Ed Perry, a 1962 graduate of Westmoor who was all league in 1962; John Hower, a .348 hitter from Burlingame High; and Danny Gibson from Ravenswood High.

"Borelli is our only power hitter," Nocerone claims. "But we have some good hitters for average in Anido, Delbex, Pignataro, and Smith."

Nocerone hopes to have a strong defensive team. "Pignataro and Small are a good double play combination," he noted.

OWNEY WILLIAMS, a tall guard from Daly City has been one of the outstanding players for the College of San Mateo basketball team this year.

Cow Palace Plays To 1,000,000 Plus

The Cow Palace played to more than a million spectators during 1966 for its various stage attractions, shows, expositions and sporting events, according to John Brucato, president of the Board of Directors.

Attendance figures totaled 1,223,547 for the year," announced Brucato. "February was the biggest month due to huge crowds drawn by the San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show, and November was next with the Grand National Rodeo and Horse Show."

The main arena was in use 133 days during the year, with an additional 54 days required for moving in and moving out of attractions. The North and South Halls were used 95 days, with 43 days for move-in and move-out. Adjacent buildings were in use for 70 days, with 21 days for move-in and move-out.

"1967 promises to be an even greater year, if the current San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show is any indication," said Brucato.

Next big event will be Travel '67, world premiere of this "Festival of Tourism" show, featuring direct travel aids and information, movies, fashion shows, ethnic dancers, musicians, foreign cuisine, and futuristic travel vehicles. Travel '67 opens Friday, February 24.

350,890 See S.S.F. Boat Show

The San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show closed out its twenty-fifth jubilee year at the Cow Palace Sunday with booming attendance and record sales creating optimism for the future.

Total attendance for the ten-day exposition was 350,890. Exhibitors reported the best selling show, with sales soaring into the millions.

"We are delighted with the results," said Thomas R. Rooney, the exposition's managing director. "And of course, we are excited about the big news for next year which will make our how the first national how in the country."

The Cow Palace dates for next year's show will be January 12 through 21, which will be the premier showing for the marine industry. The New York Boat Show, traditionally the nation's first, now moves back to February 9 through 19, followed by Chicago, March 8-17.

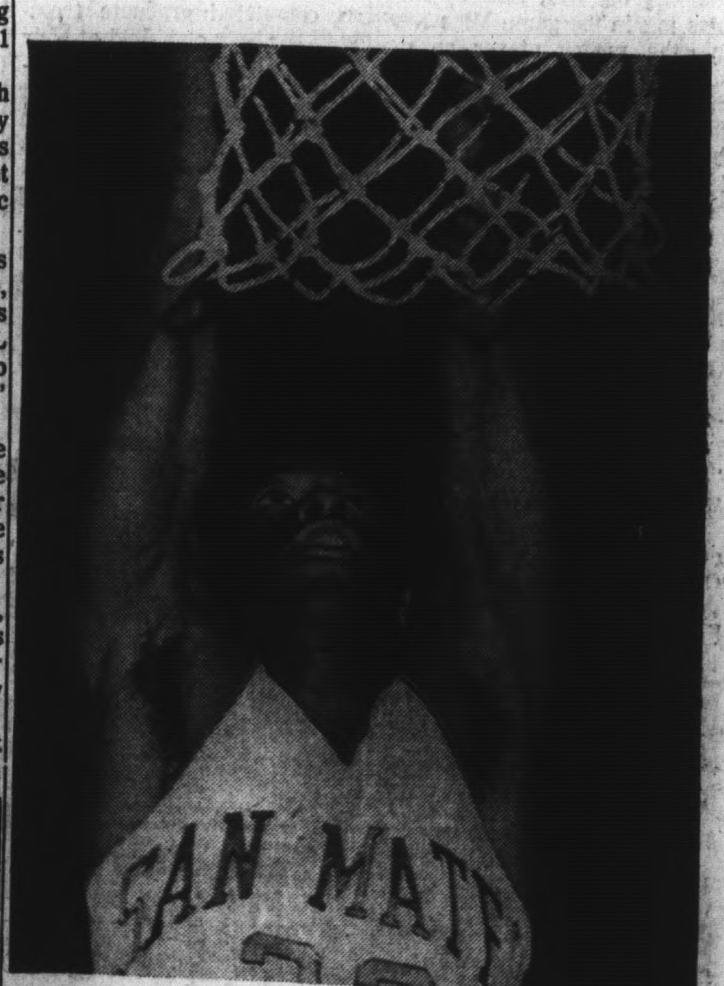

Turn-to in 1954 and Northern Dancer in 1964 were the only foreign bred horses to win Hialeah's Flamingo Stakes in 38 runnings. Turn-to was foaled in Ireland, Northern Dancer in Canada.

February Is Month The Time Drags

Time drags its feet in February, the days are longer than in November, when winter frequently defers its coming — longer than in August, that month when the summer begins to die and the earth seems to spin more slowly on its axis. Sometimes it seems that February will never pass.

The Romans, who devised the calendar, knew the same hunger for spring at this time of year. Early in their history they counted only 10 months, leaving a gap of some 60 days between the end of one year and the beginning of the next. In time they added January and February, but they made February short. They gave all the other months 31 days, 30 or 29. The allotted only 28 to Februarius.

Their calendar was imperfect still. It left them extra days to account for somehow, to make their year fit the unvarying habit of the sun, but apparently they wanted to avoid a longer February. Every second year they stopped the month at the twenty-third, threw in a surplus day as a "mensis intercalaris" they called Mercedonius, and then started again with February 24.

Somehow, despite them, the month gained a day. It had 29 days when Julius Caesar reformed the calendar. He kept it there by ordering February 23 repeated once every four years. Then, when Augustus had to have a month as long as Julius', he took the needed day from February. Nobody minded much then and nobody has cared much since, so February has 28 days three years out of four.

Perhaps the reason calendar reformers have not made much progress is that they want February to be the same length as other months. For thousands of years men have insisted on having this month of waiting kept shorter than the others. They may never be persuaded that it is not too long already.

Tots At Theatre

Barbara Bladen

"THERE ARE HUNDREDS of thousands of youngsters who'll never attend live theater for lack of a personal invitation."

The statement was made by Peter Troxel, managing director of the Stanford Repertory Theater who is endeavoring to correct that condition by "taking actors to them and enticing them back into the theater proper."

This past weekend they presented a program of one acts by Chekhov at Gunn High School in Palo Alto. The idea had already been successfully done in Beverly Hills last fall and the company has been invited back there this year.

"The best education for children is still to have them mingle with adults. That's why it's important for them ultimately to come to the theater," he astutely commented.

The company is prepared to take a full production with a simple set into any school in the state and for a far more nominal fee than comparable educationally bent companies.

Ravenswood School, where the enrollment is largely of underprivileged youngsters, of the 300 students spread around the theater with adults, 75 per cent had never seen a live play before.

"IT'S MORE THAN a new concept. It's quite an experience for the actors," Troxel continued. "The actors now get fan mail from students in school where they've done demonstrations. And of those who do come to see a performance, they invariably come backstage and talk about the show. Dennis Powers of our staff (former drama critic for the Oakland Tribune) and one actor from the professional company go out to a school and lecture every day of the week. They often sit through rehearsals of productions and offer their comments."

The average high school student is involved with the fantasy of theater. He's not interested in doing but in watching. After a preview to which teachers are always invited to prepare for the students' questions, SRT directors try to get the kids to admit they're bored.

According to Troxel, "they can't be goaded into admitting that because it isn't true. They're not bored with good theater but getting them to voluntarily walk into a theater, at this point in their life and even in later years, is another thing."

"Theater is not an educational arm of their learning experience. Youngsters are simply not aware of Broadway. Theater in San Francisco may be more factual and real for them but Hollywood has more meaning."

"THE FUNCTION OF STANFORD'S program is not just bringing them into the university theater but imparting a sense of theater by relating to the backstage scene. Actors are no longer considered second class citizens and their position in the cultural wave that is spreading across America can't be minimized."

At a recent theater workshop, Sir Tyrone Guthrie theorized that "the idea that we're still pioneering theater in many areas must be diminished. Television and cinema are not doing their job. Young people are too intelligent for Dr. Kildare and Gunsmoke."

He continued, "There's no solution to allowing our poor people in free. If you know these kind of people, send them a couple of pairs of tickets. Even in socialist countries, where the theater is subsidized by the government, tickets are sold. It's universally true that free tickets denotes in the public mind that the show is no good."

If Stanford's movement spreads throughout the university communities, the theater as a social force will become an educational arm in the search for human enlightenment: not about outer space, but about man's appreciation of man.

Terra Novans Express 'Selves On Sex Education Instruction

Many of Pacifica's Terra Nova High School students favor sex education there, a poll of about 16 per cent of the student body disclosed.

Results of the study were released in the school's quarterly magazine, Tiger Tales, this week — timely since Assemblyman John L. Burton, San Francisco Democrat, last week introduced a bill which would make mandatory public high school instruction of human reproduction.

Seventy per cent of those students polled favored sex education in the high school. Twenty-three per cent were against such instruction; 6 per cent were undecided.

Another 1 per cent told reporters, "It's none of your business!"

Generally, the negative comments ranged from "I understand it," to "everyone knows enough about it," and "if your parents haven't told you about it by now, forget it!"

One also noted, "The students at Terra Nova aren't mature enough for it!"

But, the "yes" reaction outweighed the negatives.

"Some parents won't tell their kids about it," one student explained.

"Most of us know little or nothing about sex in relation to future lives and raising families," another pointed out.

Only a handful of the teenagers thought their parents would object, although one student foresaw a balkiness.

"They want to tell me in their own way," the student explained.

"Someone has to tell us," another teen said, while one asserted, "They might mumble a bit, but they wouldn't violently object to it."

If parents don't explain sex and the schools can't, who will?

The "back alley" education that Assemblyman Burton spoke of when he introduced his bill this week?

Burton said the students should receive the instruction in school, so they don't learn it in "back alleys."

He doesn't think the parents will do it.

At Terra Nova, the survey showed over half of those polled, who felt sex education unnecessary, also had no adult to talk to about it.

But, would they, even if an adult were willing to sit down and chat about the birds 'n bees?

Most apparently would not:

"I don't like to talk about it"

"They'll think we're vulgar"

"They think you're weird if you ask"

"You're only able to talk to young adults who don't treat you like a kid"

"I never run around asking adults about it"

And, "I think they're in the same spot we're in — embarrassed. Sex is a subject that everyone talks about, but not at the same time!"

POLICE CHIEF ROLAND PETROCCHI, A Daly City law officer for 25 years, was on hand Wednesday when his son, Ronald, was sworn in as a patrolman with the South San Francisco Police Department. Ronald, a graduate of Westmoor High School, is the chief's only son. The other new policemen took the oath with Ronald. ## McKenzie 'Boy of Year'

Robert McKenzie a 14-year-old student at Parkway Junior High School, was selected recently as the "Boy of the Year," of the South San Francisco Boys' Club. McKenzie, an American Indian, was picked from a membership of 1,400 boys who belong to the local club.

Top awards presented to boys of the month, sponsored by John's Men's Shop, included Don Edwards, Ron Hertz, Rhod Wallace, Michael Gutierrez, Billy Humphrey, Darrell Page, Conrad Shigematsu, Andy Swartzell, David Zane, Charles Vagelisti, Fred Martinez and Robert McKenzie.

Boy of the Month awards are based on the boys' citizenship, sportsmanship and ability to get along with others, plus his respect for the Boys' Club and community.

Awards also were received by the 150 boys in attendance for activities in baseball, basketball, quiz apelling, book reports, arts and crafts, boxing, swimming, flag football and free throws.

McKenzie, an all-around member of the club has taken part in the basketball team, billiard team, checker team and spelling teams. He is a member of the junior staff and lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKenzie, 98 Oak Street, South San Francisco.

Selection of Your Children's Names

Samuel Chandler

The phonetics of my name are wrong. It is hard to pronounce: I am called Chic or Chuck, or Jack or Joe. Often I have been called Homer or Wilson or Max or Jay, but those names belong to my brothers. Sometimes my last name is changed to Chapman or Chantrell or Chapel.

But phonetic or not, I inherited my name from a proud man whose search for freedom brought him to the land of the free and the home of the brave. I share it with a millionaire who says he is happy to bear it, having started life as Schalom Lichtenstein.

There are many people whose names violate the principles of euphony — the science of placing pleasing sounds together. There's Hennessey Lemon and Theron Egg, Hugh Wright Smart and Chidwick Tichborne, who wrote a euphonic poem on the eve of his execution.

AMONG those with odd sounding names who became famous are Rutherford Birchard Hayes, Senator Bourke Blakemore Hickenlooper, and George Oliver Onions, the controversial and unsentimental British author. Irmatruide Flug is a scientist of note. How about Zsa Zsa Gabor, the star, and Isadore Mudge, a woman whose bibliographies are used in every university in the land?

One George Hyrum Grant violated all the rules in changing his given name to Ulysses Simpson, but they carried him to fame as a Civil War general and to the White House.

However this thing about odd sounding names has held true for many. A young actor was oppressed by Spangler Arlington Brugh — or Brough — until he changed it to Robert Taylor. Lucille Le Sueur became Joan Crawford. Crosby had to discard Harry Lillis. With Stephen G. Cleveland couldn't make it as a politician in Buffalo; as Grover Cleveland he achieved the presidency of the United States.

Woodrow Wilson got rid of Thomas and Mark Twain changed from Samuel Langhorne Clemens. David, Duke of Windsor, is happier than when he was Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, King of Great Britain and Duke of Cornwall.

THE STUDY of proper names is known as Onomastics. One of the most successful practitioners is a medical doctor whose name is a mouthful, Jacob Edward Schmidt.

His book "Baby Name Finder" is a beautiful volume that should be on the reading list of every prospective parent. It has been called the deluxe baby book, and the gift you can give with pride. In it 4,200 living names are listed with their meanings, their diminutives, and their equivalents. Each page is illustrated with the sweetest baby pictures that I have ever seen.

The essay in the front, called The Chemistry of Names, was written to prevent combinations of odd sounding names and to direct parents into choosing names that will fit their children when they are babies and when they are adults.

"Since dual nomenclature is not the custom of the day," he writes, "it behooves those whose job it is to make the name selection — the parents — to approach the subject with at least some preparation and considerable thought."

"The Baby Name Finder" is found in the reference sections of many public libraries.

What a Pacifica Tremor Could Do

YOU HEARD IT FIRST: Although he hasn't formally announced it yet, Daly City treasurer Joseph Lewkowicz will enter the upcoming Jefferson Elementary School Board race. Deadline for filing is March 3.

ALL IT WILL TAKE is a slight tremor combined with heavy rains similar to those which lashed the Bay Area last month, and Pedro Point will settle wetly into the Pacific Ocean, Pacifica engineer Kenneth Thompson volunteered recently. Another note of assurance to residents of the area is a statement made by Thompson that he would never live in the Pedro Point area.

FUN AND NAMES: Daly City councilmen heaped "praise" on police chief Roland A. Petrocchi at last week's Chamber of Commerce and Youth in Government Day luncheon. Councilman Ed Dennis, talking about the new civic center, called it "Petrocchi's Palace" and said the chief "got just about everything he asked for" in the police section of the hall. "I guess the wheel that squeaks always gets the grease" Dennis commented. The chief smiled through the verbal lambasting and later allowed, "It was all good-natured kidding."

ADD TO MENU: The fact that everyone in Daly City government had a student counterpart at the luncheon except on motorcycle operators ap-

(you guessed it) north county sanitation engineer Robert Bernicchi.

THE HILLSIDE HOME-OWNERS Improvement Association will hold its annual installation dinner at the Golden Pavilion Restaurant in San Francisco on March 11. Daly City mayor Bernard "Bud" Lyckett will be the guest speaker at the nine-course Chinese feast. Mrs. Frank Loretta (756-2895) and Mrs. Cal Dunow (756-2419) will give any additional info on the gathering.

DALY CITY'S DEPOSITS (commercial) may be going to the First National Bank of Daly City, but savings (long-term accounts) are continuing to be split between Bank of America, Crocker and First National, according to finance director Hossli. Matter-of-fact the city keeps more than $800,000 in their "savings accounts" at the three institutions. A cloud of dust went up last month when it was announced the city would consolidate its commercial checking account (an estimated $250,000 monthly) in one bank. "The move will save quite a bit of money for the city through simplified bookkeeping," Hossli said at the time.

CYCLE RIDERS BEWARE: The California Association of Driver's License Examiners (CADLE) wants tougher laws part at the luncheon except on motorcycle operators applying for licenses. As one Daly City examiner ventured over coffee last week: "Nowadays anyone can legally drive a cycle even if he's never been on one in his life. All he (or she) needs is a regular driver's license." And this doesn't mean a person can properly operate one of those two-wheeled "kamikaze" vehicles. But politics being what they are in California, it's doubtful the laws will change in the foreseeable future, the examiner predicted.

THE BROWN ACT (Ralph M.) — That much-talked about piece of legislation most lawmakers try to avoid, starts off by declaring "the public commissions, boards and councils and the other public agencies in this state exist to aid in the conduct of the People's business."

"It is the intent of the law that their actions be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly. The people of this State do not yield their sovereignty to the agencies WHICH SERVE THEM. The people, in delegating authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know."

THE PEOPLE INSIST ON REMAINING INFORMED SO THAT THEY MAY RETAIN CONTROL OVER THE INSTRUMENTS THEY HAVE CREATED.

Better Business

Franchise Firm 'Schemes' Cited

Lorene Beasley

Four promoters advertised sporting goods franchises nationwide for over six years before they were apprehended and convicted of fraud. During that period some 700 persons invested more than $900,000.

Key distributors for brand name sporting equipment used in all indoor and outdoor sports specializing in hunting, fishing, baseball, football and basketball equipment were advertised for a minimum investment of $1,295.

The investors were promised training in the business and help in establishing accounts for the new outlets. The sporting goods was to be retailed through food, variety and drug stores.

PEOPLE anxious for extra income were victims of the glowing franchise advertisements which appeared in publications throughout the country. They fell for the advertisements which said "no selling experience or knowledge of sporting goods necessary." They believed that their investment was "protected by our purchase of your entire inventory."

The scheme hit hardest at the elderly and retired who hoped to supplement their meagre incomes. Among the investors was a blind seventy-two year old widow.

A New York investor, who later testified that he had lost $3,885, was lured by the idea that he would be able to earn between $150 and $200 per week with only a few hours work servicing the retail locations.

He and the other investors found it impossible to earn such profits, because the distributors were forced to pay retail prices for their equipment. They were also bound by a contract which obligated them to allow retailers one-third of the selling price.

A suit has recently been filed in the Bay area by franchise dealers of Chicken Delight. The franchise dealers, who are asking for under $100,000 in damages, claim they were forced to buy food, packages and equipment at fixed "exorbitant high and artificial" prices from Chicken Delight because of their franchise agreements.

Project Concern Program By School Nurse Planned

Miss Bertha Sanchez, a school nurse at Daly City's Jefferson High School, who spent two different summer vacations in Vietnam working in a hospital sponsored by Project Concern, next Tuesday will talk and show slides of some of the peaceful efforts done to help the Vietnamese.

The program will be presented at 7:30 p.m. at 1474 Southgate Avenue.

Explaining that Project Concern has a strong magnetic affect on her, Miss Sanchez noted, "It is a positive, people-to-people program of medical assistance to persons everywhere."

She pointed out that the organization is made up of "people who are concerned with the needy and sick of the world." Mrs. David Pierce, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Wesley Methodist Church, who planned this evening, invited the community to hear Miss Sanchez.

In South Vietnam, Project Concern has a small hospital in the village of DaMao which treats in-patients and also has an out-patient clinic. The most significant contribution to Vietnam, is a VMO, Village Medical Officer, program which trains local young men and women in the basics of medical assistance.

Graduates return to their villages as medical officers, recognized and certified by the Government. A project Concern team, doctor, nurse, and laboratory technician, visits each of the villages periodically, and with the assistance of the VMO, has clinic sessions with full medical services.

Project Concern was conceived in the heart of a young U.S. physician-teacher, Dr. James W. Turpin.

DAVID PIERCE (left), president of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Wesley Methodist Church of Daly City, and Miss Bertha Sanchez, Jefferson High School nurse, study outline of Miss Sanchez' talk on the Project Concern program in Vietnam, at 7:30 p.m., February 21. Highlight of the Thomas Edison P-TA's Founder's Day program February 9 was the presentation of the honorary life membership to Mrs. Robert Hansen.

The award is given in special recognition of outstanding service to the youth of this community.

In presenting the award, Mrs. William Mason, honorary Life Membership chairman, noted that Mrs. Hansen has been "most unselfish in giving of her time and talent to the youth of her community."

For the Thomas Edison P-TA, Mrs. Hansen has served as room representative and was president of the organization for two years.

During her term as president, Project Discovery, was first discussed, and she has worked from the start on this important program.

In addition to her work for Thomas Edison, Mrs. Hansen is at present active in the P-TA organizations of Ben Franklin Junior High and Westmoor High schools.

She has also been active in City of Hope fund drives, and worked with the Daly City Newcomers' Club.

LEFTOVER CREAM
Sometimes when cream is served with coffee at a party, there's cream left over in the refrigerator. You may want to whip it, sweeten it to taste and flavor it with a dash of salt and a little vanilla, and freeze it to have on hand to serve with a dessert. At serving time, offer the cream frozen or let it defrost.

Speaker and Life Member Honor On Oceana Program

Plan Day At Races

Louanne Heath

Tallyho! The word from Mrs. Clifton West, publicity chairman for the Mary's Help Hospital Guild tells of an upcoming trip to the track for the annual "Day at the Races" benefit scheduled March 15.

Mrs. Frank Lawson has been appointed chairman of the afternoon and she hopes to match the enjoyment of last year's merry romp to the Turf Club for a buffet luncheon amidst elegant surroundings while watching the sport of kings.

The tickets are on sale for $7.50, a price which includes Turf Club admission, lunch and the option of chartered bus transportation from Westlake or free "top of the hill" Turf Club parking. For more information contact Mrs. Lawson, 755-2116.

The Day at the Races is the kick-off event for the guild's annual Fuchsia Ball to be held in May.

It has been a very busy month for the guild's membership. Valentine's Day was the choice of dates — appropriately enough — for the honoring of the guild's Sweethearts, the many loyal guild members and volunteers who have played such a large role in the hospital function during its first year of existence on the Daly City hilltop.

Mrs. Fred Moriara chaired the happy affair "which was given in the form of a traditional tea in the Forest Hill Clubhouse in San Francisco. Staff physicians' wives and other invited guests were also present, according to Mrs. West.

Members of Beta Sigma chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha International will journey to the San Anselmo home of Mrs. Joyce Thompson on Saturday evening for their annual Valentine's Party.

Mrs. Lois Orent, vice president and rushing chairman is handling the arrangements.

The Freshmen class mothers of the St. John's Ursuline Guild served the fourth in a series of eight luncheons yesterday, in the school auditorium, according to Mrs. Edward Alvers, the publicity chairman. Entertainment for the benefit included games and prizes.

Music! Music! Music everywhere! Two dates to remember if you enjoy band concerts are this Friday evening and Thursday evening, February 23. Friday the fourth annual joint band concert will be held at Terra Nova High School in Pacifica, beginning at 8 p.m. Next week the Westmoor High School stage band, under the direction of Howard Loeffler, will give a concert in the Little Theater at Westmoor starting at 7:30 p.m. A donation of $1 is being requested in both instances and the public is welcome.

It's bargain time at the Our Lady of Mercy parish hall this Saturday, according to word from Mrs. Joanne Moulton, publicity chairman for the Westlake Catholic Women. The big values will be offered at the annual rummage sale presale, which gets under way at 10 a.m. and continues until 4 p.m. New clothes, new and used toys, as well as a wide selection of bikes, records, kitchenware, TVs, and various types of furniture will be offered to localities prior to the rummage sale itself which is set for Monday, February 20, in the National Guard Armory, Fourteenth and Mission Streets in San Francisco, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Jack Irvine is the general chairman and her helpers include Mrs. Mary Jane Anderson, Mrs. Harold Thompson, Mrs. Frank Ghiselli, Mrs. Joseph Moore, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, Mrs. Bernard Albrecht, Mrs. Raymond Murphy, Mrs. Albert Bucchi, Mrs. Grant Thompson and Mrs. Thomas O'Brien.

Patti Parks and the Entertainers have been invited to share the top entertainment bill for the 1967 San Mateo County Fair, on August 6, according to word from a delighted Patti who will also be appearing as a soloist for the morning worship hour on that date. Walter Jeter Jr., Erin Vital, Petty Elliot and Marlene Alvarado sing with Patti in the entertainers' group.

The Belles 'n' Beaus, another of Patti's loves, performed the Songs of the Gilded Age for the Founder's Day program of the Crocker Pershing School P-TA last evening. Featured performers for that event were Bob Meyers and Family, along with Paul Calhoun, all of the Bob Meyers Dance Workshop, and soloists Marlene Alvarado and Betty Elliott, Doreen Marlow and James Palmer.

The Work Song is the theme of the members of the Golden Gate Kindergarten Association Auxiliary who have been getting together weekly in preparation for their giant rummage sale to be held on April 17 and 18, in the Hall of Flowers in San Francisco.

Contributions of any kind of usable items, books, records, furniture, clothing, jewelry, toys, linens, etc., are very much needed and anyone wishing to contribute may arrange to have items picked up by calling Mrs. George McConnell at DI 2-0953.

According to Mrs. Selmar Monro, publicity chairman, the proceeds from the sale will provide pre-school care for needy children at the Phoebe Hearst Pre-school Learning Center in San Francisco. Mrs. Ted Thomasser is general chairman and Mrs. Henry Herz and Mrs. Robert Erickson are assisting her.

The Oriental and the Occidental worlds will blend together for a unique fund raising party this Friday evening at Nick's Restaurant in Pacifica according to Mrs. Shirley Drye, a publicity chairman for the Community Cultural Co-ordinating committee, the sponsoring unit.

An outstanding collection of modern Japanese woodblock prints and California wines, famous cheeses and exotic breads and crackers will please the palate while Madame Michiya Hanayagi will perform classical dances from her Japanese homeland.

Tickets for the event will be sold for $1.50 by the clerk in the recreation department at City Hall, at the DalPac Art Gallery in Pacific Manor, or interested persons may reserve tickets by writing to the CCCC, P.O. Box 556, Pacifica, and enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope with their checks.

The proceeds from the affair will help support the committee's efforts to bring cultural programs and events to Pacifica.

A Lecture: 'The Social Revolution'

The Social Revolution will be the subject of a lecture scheduled for 8 p.m., February 20, at Brotherhood Way Jewish Community Center.

Discussion will be on such matters as the Civil Rights Movement, the War on Poverty, compensatory education, reducing unemployment, the guaranteed Annual Wage, and related topics.

Speakers on the panel will be Rabbi Joseph B. Glaser, regional director of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations; and Rev. A. Cecil Williams of the Glide Urban Center in San Francisco.

Robert H. Miller, San Francisco attorney will be the moderator.

The lecture is jointly sponsored by Congregation Ner Tamid, Temple Judea, and Brotherhood Way Jewish Community Center, in cooperation with the Bureau of Jewish Education.

Admission is 50 cents to affiliated members and to students, and $1 for the general public.

State College Faculty Women Plan Festival

Scholarship funds are the goal which the Women's Faculty Club of San Francisco State College hope to earn at their International Gourmet Festival.

Those interested in attending may contribute an international gourmet dish equivalent in value to $2 per person; call Mrs. Thomas Spencer, 755-2562, giving the name and country of your specialty. Or you may mail your check for tickets at $2 per person to Mrs. Urban Whitaker, 1590 Greenwood Way, San Bruno.

A social hour at 6:30 will precede the 7:30 dinner to be held on February 24 at the Lake Merced Boathouse, on Lake Merced at Harding Road in San Francisco.

Reservations and commitments for food should be made before February 17. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Edgemont-Allen Spanish Lunch Raises Funds

Another fund-raising activity of the Edgemont-Allen School P-TA of San Bruno was a Spanish luncheon February 9 in the Decima Allen Cafeteria.

Chairman for the affair was Mrs. Alfred Kennedy, assisted by Mrs. Walter Terrel and Mrs. William Ostini. Mrs. Ethel Reitz, cafeteria manager, was in charge of the Spanish food.

Entertainment was provided by the members of the Extended Basic Class in Spanish. These fourth and fifth grade pupils of the school presented three plays, entirely done in Spanish.

Other plans for Edgemont-Allen P-TA for this month include the Founders Day meeting to be held February 23, as well as unit representation at the Seventeenth District Founders' Day at the Hillsdale Inn tomorrow.

San Andreas School P-TA Now Year Old

The San Andreas P-TA in Pacifica, is now one year old and will hold its first Founder's Day Program, presenting its first Honorary Life Membership.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. with coffee and cake followed by a short business meeting.

At 8:30 p.m. the members will go to the Westview School, joining the Westview PTA for a program by Western's Pantomimics, a steel drum band.

Library Staffer To Review Book

The Friends of the Daly City Library will sponsor a public book review by David E. Crane of the library staff February 23, at 10 a.m., in the Coral Room of the Westlake Library on Southgate Avenue.

Crane, who is in charge of circulation and reference for the library, is working on his master of arts degree in library science at San Jose State College.

He will compare the novels of Kurt Vonnegut Jr.

Vonnegut, who is credited with such novels as "Cat's Cradle" and "Mother Night," uses satire to comment on today's world, a style of writing growing in popularity.

He often uses this comedy to make a serious point. Vonnegut watched the destruction of Dresden, Germany, while a prisoner of war during World War II.

He also has done work for television and has had short stories and articles printed in such magazines as "The Saturday Evening Post" and "McCalls."

Resin Craft And Papier Mache Classes Slated

The Daly City Recreation Department is sponsoring a course in resin craft and papier mache jewelry.

The class will be held at Westlake Park on Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m., beginning today.

Resin is a liquid that may be colored, molded and made into wonderful gifts and items for the home.

An added attraction to the class is papier mache jewelry, which is the new, bright jewelry seen in fashionable stores.

The cost of the course is $5, which may be paid at the class itself.

For further information, call Patricia Lessard, Department of Recreation, 992-4500.

Student Awards Given at Sharp Park Assembly

Primary unit of the Sharp Park Elementary School in Pacifica recently held a student award assembly for the children in the non-graded program.

Awards were made for scholarship, citizenship, student council participation and recognition for outstanding service to the school.

Principal Thomas Collins in his "Statement of the Union" to the six, seven and eight-year-olds, praised them for their diligent efforts on the primary student council.

During the assembly, to which parents had been invited, the flag salute was led by Barry Knottmeyer, and Cristy Lanker welcomed the mothers and introduced Collins.

Primary faculty members feel that the experiences at student government that the first, second and third graders are receiving will encourage greater participation in student government at the upper grade levels at the large elementary schools in the Laguna Salada School District. The project is also being maintained in order to introduce and to train children in the ways of good citizenship.

Delta Phi Upsilon Meeting Tonight At Andrews Home

Mrs. Betty Gilkey, grand vice president, will attend and conduct the ceremony commemorating the sorority's 44th anniversary.

Mrs. Winnie Kum will also have a part in the Founders' Day meeting with a talk about arts and crafts in the elementary school.

Mrs. Gladys Walden will show travel slides.

Delegates to the national convention will be chosen.

Those who plan to attend are urged to phone Mrs. Andrews.

'Treasure Island' To Be Shown At Thomas Edison

The Thomas Edison P-TA will present a movie, "Treasure Island," Saturday, in the multi-use room.

Doors will open at 12:30 p.m., and the movie will begin at 1 p.m.

The admission price of 25 cents will be collected at the door, and popcicles will be sold for 10 cents.

P-TA mothers will hostess the performance.

The Walt Disney film is a classic adventure tale and has a high rating for adults and children.

UNIT LEADERS AWARDED — Mayor Bernard "Bud" Lycett sent 34 Daly City scout leaders citations thanking them for their efforts on behalf of the area's Boy Scouts. Wives were presented with a beautiful carnation at the same time. The presentations were part of Boy Scout Week February 7-14, in the Bay Area. Two of the Boy Scouts delivering Mayor Lycett's citation were (left to right) Richard Shipp and Michael Urrutia. Pictured with the scouts are (rear-left to right) Al Belotz, Serra District Scout chairman; George Killian, assistant scout executive; (middle-left to right) Councilman Edward Dennis, Mayor Lycett and Councilman Tony Giammona. ## TEENS

The Oceana Teen Council is now selling Teen Club Cards at Co-Rec Night (Wednesday, 7 to 9) and during their weekly meetings on Tuesday after school in the hut in Pomo Park. Membership cards are required at all Teen Club-sponsored events, cost is $1.

Oddstad Center will not be open this Friday for a Drop-in. A dance is being scheduled for February 24 and decorations and lighting are being completed this week. The Terra Nova Teen Council meets every Thursday night from 7 to 8 o'clock at Oddstad.

The Pacifica Teen Council has now been split into the Oceana and Terra Nova Teen Council. This was done to improve communication and involve more teens. Terra Nova and Oceana Teen Club cards are interchangeable at events sponsored by either group.

A J-Teen dance was held at Pacific Manor School February 7. Seventh and eighth grade students are eligible for membership in J-Teens.

Because of busing schedules, the Ortega J-Teen Club will hold its meetings from 4:15 to 5:30 on Tuesdays.

Broccoli With Cheese Sauce Adds Touch

A good vegetable to complete a meal is broccoli with cheese sauce.

- Broiled Chicken
- Mashed Potatoes
- Broccoli with Cheese Sauce
- Rolls
- Fruit Cup
- Cookies
- BROCCOLI WITH CHEESE SAUCE

1 bunch (about 1½ pounds) broccoli
1 cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons each butter or margarine and flour
1½ cups milk
1 cup (¾ pound) coarsely grated cheddar cheese
With swivel-blade vegetable peeler, pare outer covering from broccoli stalks; divide stalks evenly, cutting if necessary. Wash and drain. Boil broccoli with the boiling water and salt in a covered 10-inch skillet just until tender — 8 to 10 minutes. Drain and keep warm. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour and milk; add cheese and stir over very low heat to melt. (Taste sauce and add salt if necessary.) Pour sauce over broccoli. Makes 6 servings.

Burger and Tater Change of Pace

There's no denying that the heartiest, most nourishing family-favorite supper of them all is the tried-and-true combination of hamburgers and French fries. The burgers, of course, have always been a snap for Mom to make.

Nowadays, too, with the French fries conveniently frozen so that she can skip all the fuss of peeling and slicing, she can easily serve them as often as the family demands. And with some families that could be every night!

Even the most enthusiastic burger and fries fans think it's nice to have a little change of pace and taste in the serving from time to time. We have a new recipe for Burger and Tater Supper that calls for marinating the fries in a zippy, zesty mixture of seasonings for ten minutes or so before they are broiled alongside the hamburgers, and we think it's a winner.

The fries will be even more delicious than ever...crispy on the outside, flaky on the inside. The marinade for the fries is added to a creamy salad dressing to make a tasty new sauce for the burgers at serving time.

Serve the Burger and Tater Supper with the family's favorite green vegetable, or, perhaps, a molded fruit salad and you have meal enough for anyone. You'll have compliments, too, from the folks who matter most...reason enough to stock up on frozen French fries so that you can treat the family to them often.

BURGER AND TATER SUPPER

- 1-3 cup all-purpose salad oil
- ¼ cup wine vinegar
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon garlic salt
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ½ teaspoon sugar
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 1 1-lb. package French fried potatoes
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup salad dressing

Combine salad oil, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce and seasonings. Spread potatoes in a shallow baking dish; pour marinade over potatoes. Let stand 10 to 15 minutes. Combine beef, salt and pepper. Form into 4 patties. Place beef patties on broiler. Lift potatoes out of marinade, reserving marinade, and arrange around meat. Broil 4 inches from heat for 7 minutes.

Easy Gourmet Way to Fix Fried Chicken

Here is an easy, gourmet way to fix fried chicken. It is easy because the chicken is "fried" in the oven. It has gourmet appeal because it is coated with dairy rich sour cream and herb-flavored dressing.

Home economists suggest serving this rich "fried" chicken with Spoonbread and buttered green peas.

GOURMET FRIED CHICKEN (Serves 4)

- 4 chicken breasts
  - Salt
  - Pepper
  - ¾ cup dairy sour cream
  - ¾ cup herb-flavored stuffing, crushed fine
- Clean chicken pieces and dry. Salt and pepper them. With pastry brush, coat chicken well with sour cream. Roll the chicken in stuffing crumbs, coating well. Place in buttered baking dish, skin side down. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Turn skin side up. Bake 30 minutes longer.

Turn patties and potatoes; broil 7 to 8 minutes longer. Combine marinade with salad dressing. Serve over beef patties. Makes 4 servings.

'Nature of A Gift' Fantasy Given By Youth

Members of the Youth Fellowship of Seaciff Community Church, 50 Northridge Drive, Daly City, presented "The Nature of a Gift," a Christmas fantasy in one act by D. L. Emblem, at the Rockridge Evangelical United Brethren Church on College Avenue in Berkeley, February 12.

They had previously presented it as a part of Seaciff's Christmas program.

This intriguing tale might well have been titled "The Key," because an important door — both to the climax of the play and to a basic law of life — is unlocked at the psychologically right moment.

Brugenhofer, a small village in the Alps, otherwise prosperous and smug, is annually terrorized at Christmas by a flesh-hungry giant who demands human tribute.

At the height of a tempestuous town meeting and within minutes of the time the giant is to arrive, a mysterious stranger appears. Almost at once his thinking begins to dominate the village.

It seems that total annihilation is at hand when — quite calmly and unexpectedly — a mother approaches the giant and hands him her little child in a gesture of compassion and trust. The amazed giant takes the child upon his lap, removes the magic key from around his neck and gently unlocks the secret of the human heart.

The cast includes: The Stranger, Don Gemmet; The Old Woman, Mary Erford; The Mayor, David Adams; the Mayor's Wife, Connie Adams; The Tinker, Monty Theofanides; The Schoolteacher, Margaret Disque; The Apple Woman, Roberta Hendricks; The Blacksmith, Steve Adams; The Tavern Keeper, Kike Duden; The Farmer, Tom Hendricks; The Seamstress, Judy Klotz; The Baby, Kent Poehleman; The Mother, Barbara Disque; The Giant of Bragh, Ken Lass; Lemmy Llapitan played the drums; Jim Carlew was in charge of the lighting, and Karen Pettingell supervised costuming.

S.S.F. Lions Join Project

South San Francisco Lions have joined with other clubs in a mutual project, the blood bank.

To stimulate interest in the project the members recently planned a special evening for donors. Participating in the donating were Lions Mary Jacobson, Elwood Stopper, Darrel Thompson, Dr. John O'Donnell and Dr. Ed O'Donnell, and Miss Laury Morris, daughter of Lion Ken Morris.

Chairman Ed O'Donnell is still hoping that more Lions or their family members will help in this worthwhile project.

Terra Nova Topics

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

'Tis the season for elections on the TN campus. Elections for class officers will be held today following the recent student body elections. Also today, the newly elected student body officers will get tips from last semester's old-timers at a joint executive board meeting. Meanwhile, the various clubs continue to elect new officers for this semester.

The Terra Nova American Field Service Club will greet Ecuadorian foreign exchange student Maria Gravizo with an informal reception after school today. Maria, attending school in Sonora this year through the American Field Service program, is visiting Pacifica's two high schools this week. She is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Layton Jones, 1343 Crespi Drive. The Joneses have a son, Scott, and a daughter, Judy, attending Terra Nova while Jones teaches at Oceana.

Speech Club members are putting forth their most vocal efforts to prepare for this Saturday's national Forensic League speech tournament to be held at Berkeley High School.

Also preparing for this weekend is TN senior Dawn Knighton. Dawn, who has played clarinet in the TN band for the past four years, has been chosen for the All-California Honor Band. Sponsored by the Band Directors Association, the Honor Band is composed of top music students from California high schools. First rehearsals are to be held in Whittier this Saturday, Sunday, and Monday.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS

"Cavities"

There are millions of bacteria in your mouth. Some are quite harmful because they act on sugars and other carbohydrates to form acids. These acids dissolve the enamel of the teeth. That is the beginning of tooth decay.

Unless decay is stopped by a dentist, who removes the decayed portion of the tooth and puts in a filling, decay proceeds from the enamel into the dentin and then into the pulp. Once the pulp has been infected, it may be too late to save the tooth.

Have your dentist check your teeth and take care of any cavities that may be present.

Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Two Cyclists Hurt In Coast Mishaps

Two motorcyclists suffered leg fractures and other injuries Sunday afternoon in similar accidents on the Coastside.

Gary Haskell, 17, of 1423 Perez Drive, Pacifica, suffered fractures of the pelvis and both legs in a crash on Carroll Canyon Road two miles east of Cabrillo Highway near Pacifica.

Highway Patrolman Donald A. Lococo said Gary was driving in his motorcycle westbound on the narrow dirt road, and Robert D. Hunt, 33, 646 Brighton Drive, Pacifica, was driving a car eastbound. When the two vehicles met on a curve, both drivers applied their brakes.

The car stopped, Lococo said, but the motorcycle skidded on the loose dirt and hit the front of the auto. The youth was pitched completely over the car, landing on the road behind. He was admitted to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

John Foster Davis, 21, of 417-B Oak Grove Avenue, Menlo Park, a Marine corporal stationed at the Alameda Naval Air Station, sustained fractures of both knees in a crash on Gazos Creek a mile east of Cabrillo Highway near Pescadero.

Highway Patrolman Oliver Holbrook said Davis was riding his motorcycle eastbound when he encountered a westbound station wagon driven by Howard Krug, 61-year-old electronics technician of 1045 Cedar Street, San Carlos. The car stopped and the motorcycle crashed into it. Davis was thrown off and hurled down an embankment.

He was given emergency treatment at Sequoia Hospital and transferred to Oak Knoll Naval Hospital near Oakland.

Two Area Youths In Finals

Laurence O. Gagliani, 17-year-old South San Francisco High School senior, is one of 10 finalists competing for a top scholarship award of $1,000 in connection with this year's Engineers' Week observance, it was announced today.

A second Peninsula finalist is Eric A. Hjertberg of San Carlos. Competition in eight Bay Area counties was divided into rough geographic zones. Gagliani, of 605 Rocca Avenue, South San Francisco, whose general field of study has been in science and mathematics, is the finalist from an area covering high schools in Northern San Mateo County.

Ninety-six students were competing in the 10 zones for a total of $4,200 in scholarships.

Gagliani and the other nine finalists will be interviewed January 28 by a special panel of the Bay Area Engineers' Week Committee for assignment of the top awards.

Final winners will be announced at the traditional banquet at the San Francisco Hilton Hotel.

Hit-Run Car Hurts Broker In Park Lot

A South San Francisco real estate broker suffered a strained back when he was knocked to the ground at the New Southern Restaurant in that city last week.

Albert Linhares, of 760 Haven Court, told police a car struck him and drove away, leaving the victim laying in the parking lot.

Another customer en route to his car saw Linhares and summoned police and an ambulance.

San Bruno Publisher Fined $550

John C. Davis, San Bruno publisher accused of advertising fraud, has been fined $550 after pleading nolo contendere (no contest) in Southern District Municipal Court to charges of falsely representing a magazine he publishes as being an official police publication.

Sentence was imposed Monday by Judge Lyle Edson, who denied a motion for probation.

Davis is publisher of a magazine known as the "State Policeman," which is distributed throughout the western states.

Charges were initiated against him some two years ago by District Attorney Keith C. Sorenson's office following complaints that Davis was representing his magazine as an official police publication in soliciting advertising.

A continuing effort to have the charges dismissed as unconstitutional had postponed court action over a period of time.

$2,000 Fire

An apartment house garage fire caused an estimated $2,000 damage yesterday morning, according to South San Francisco fire officials.

The fire started in a metal wall locker inside the garage at 207 Linden Avenue, shortly before noon.

Smoke caused most of the damage to an apartment directly over the locker, fire officials said.

It's Not a 'Pool Hall' Say Owners of 'Billiard Parlor'

By FRANK LAPIERRE

About the worst mistake a person can make nowadays is to refer to a "billiard parlor" as a "pool hall." At least as far as a billiard parlor owner is concerned.

Today's parlors are no longer those dark, dreary hangouts where pool balls click against chalked cues while "ganster-types" lean over the green clothed tables with cigarettes hanging from their lips.

No steel carpets on the floor, stained glass lighting for each table hanging overhead, plus free lessons for beginners, is only a small part of the modern-day billiard parlor.

All this because parlor owners are making an effort to attract the family trade and want nothing to do with the image left by so-called "pool sharks" of yesteryear.

"We see a 'shark' trying to play and he is immediately asked to leave," Stanley Cleaner, co-owner of the Town and Country Billiard Parlor in Daly City confided recently.

"And don't think we can't spot them right away," he added after a lengthy explanation on why these clever players are discouraged from even entering his or similar establishments.

Alec Liu, president of National Recreation Sales, a major supplier of billiard equipment locally, said "from manufacturers right down to parlor managers a determined effort is being made to take this business out of the darkness of yesterday and put it into the sunlight of today."

"We provide an environment that a family would enjoy playing this exciting game in—similar to the present-day bowling lanes," Lie said. "And we spare no expense to provide the very best of everything in the way of equipment and furnishings."

The recently opened Daly City parlor—one of a chain of similarly styled parlors in the Bay Area—has 14 tables and cost the owners more than $50,000 to furnish.

A French-style sidewalk coffee shop where spectators may sit and watch the goings on, or just take a break between games is another of the "luxuries" in the Town and Country parlors.

Persons are charged an hourly rate to play. The more players at a table the lower the cost, according to Cleaner.

Many families purchase their own table and individual cue sticks, Cleaner said.

"We have learned that families which have their own equipment become regular customers," Cleaner said. "Many parlors sponsor periodic tournaments with trophies presented to top amateur players."

There is little doubt that billiards is fast becoming the "Game of Today" as many enthusiasts claim.

In the past five years, the number of billiard parlors in the U.S. has more than doubled.

Older establishments have had to modernize their equipment and renovate furnishings to compete with newer style parlors.

Liu predicts his company alone will complete some 40 Town and Country style parlors in Northern California within the next five years.

mosphere to attract the family trade. More than 40 such parlors will be built within the next five years, in the Bay Area, according to equipment distributor Liu. (Post Photo)

Cities Split Stripe Right Down Middle

The City of Pacifica has agreed to buy half a paint stripping machine.

The City of San Bruno will buy the other half.

Amending an agreement made in 1965 with San Bruno in which the two cities jointly purchased a sewer x-ray machine, Pacifica councilmen said last week they would share the cost of the stripper.

Each city will pay $3,780 and share maintenance costs.

Under the pact, San Bruno crews will use the equipment on even months, Pacifica on odd months. In other business, the Pacifica council:

—Set up a personnel session for next Wednesday to discuss Tenth Anniversary Committee and Parking Study Commission appointment candidates.

—Set up a 7:30 p.m. February 15 meeting with the Civic Center site selection study committee.

—Approved the tentative map of the Park Pacifica Estates after an hour-long discussion of changes, dealing with cul-de-sac length, off-street parking and variable setback.

—Formally approved a resolution appointing C. W. Masonheimer city manager at a beginning salary (step two) of $16,275. Top pay for the post is $18,840.

—Directed Masonheimer to compile a complete file of information regarding benefits and disadvantages of a local Housing Authority.

—Granted Assistant City Manager Jim Swayne an extra $200 for the two months he served as city manager between the time former manager Karl Baldwin resigned and the hiring of Masonheimer.

—Directed Masonheimer to bring back all information pertinent to a possible bond issue for information and financing of districts.

North County Deaths

Revived 8 Times, He Dies at S.S.F. Meet

George Argiris, 52, a South San Francisco man who made headlines in 1962 when doctors "brought him back alive" after his heart stopped beating eight times in three hours, collapsed at a crowded City Council meeting Thursday night and died a few hours later.

Argiris, who was named to the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority in June 1965, was attending a session on the proposed Westborough Freeway route in the South San Francisco when the fatal attack began at 8:45 p.m.

He was rushed to Peninsula Hospital, where he was met by his physician, Dr. P. Edmund Stalteri, who had helped keep Argiris alive in 1962.

Argiris is survived by his wife, Tula.

He was a resident of 116 Ravenswood Avenue, South San Francisco, and was employed as western area relations manager for the Cadillac Division of General Motors.

Five years ago, he was a Stonestown auto dealer, when he was hospitalized at St.

Mary's in San Francisco after feeling chest pains. He was reportedly in the hospital's intensive care unit when his heart stopped, and his wife called for help.

Eight times within 45 minutes, his heart stopped again, each time he was revived with oxygen, heart massage, and an electric shock machine that translates irregular heart beats into normal rhythms.

Thursday, as a member of the West Bay Transit Authority, he was attending the meeting in his official capacity, and had just a new era in an attorney's question regarding some discarded plans of the organization when the attack occurred.

Mayor Frank Bertucci and city councilmen, along with members of the Rancho Buri Buri Homeowners Association and attorneys, jumped to their feet to assist the stricken man as he sank slowly to the carpeted floor of the council chambers.

Several persons in the room administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation until firemen and an ambulance arrived.

A New S.S.F. Driver Program

South San Francisco multi-car driving range plan will be presented to the State Department of Education, February 15, by the California Traffic Safety Council, reports Clarence King, driver-training chairman for the South San Francisco Unified School District. Members of the South San Francisco Safety Commission, which is supporting the plans, include Mayor Frank Bertucci, Police Chief John Fabbri and Lee Haaker and Mario Volante, local businessmen.

King related that this pilot program is the first of its kind to be used in the state.

The range site is located behind South San Francisco High School and when completed will revolutionize the present method of driver training and tenth grade students will begin a more intensified course next fall.

The program entails the purchase of simulators and students will be taught primarily through the use of movies and texts. Each student will have a set of controls at his desk to answer questions and then the student will practice on the driving range.

When the students have completed their classroom training they will begin training on the multi-car driving range, King reports. The plan involves 12 cars operating in the area simultaneously. The student will drive by himself, where formerly the instructor drove with the student. Each student will receive directions from radios installed in the car.

This method allows the student ample opportunity to practice turning, passing and parking the vehicle. When a student is considered proficient on the range, he is permitted to drive on the highway, accompanied by an instructor. The range will supplement the drivers' training program and replace the time formerly spent in observation.

Brunch Pie For Sunday Favorite

Quiche Lorraine is a traditionally European entree that is fast becoming one of our favorite brunch treats.

Here is our American version of this delicious cheese and custard pie. Rich sour cream is blended with eggs and seasonings. Tangy American blue cheese and grated Swiss cheese are then folded into rich custard. Speckles of criss bacon and sweet chopped onion further enhance this Sunday Brunch Pie.

Don't forget that Sunday Brunch Pie makes marvelous appetizers when cut into bite size pieces.

SUNDAY BRUNCH PIE (Makes 1 9-inch pie)

1/2 pound bacon
1 cup chopped onion
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups Swiss cheese, grated
1/4 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)
1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
Fry bacon until crisp. Drain and crumble. Sauté onion in small amount of bacon drippings until tender. Combine eggs, sour cream, seasonings and onion. Pour gently into unbaked pie shell. Bake at 400 degrees for 40 minutes or until inserted knife comes out clean. Serve hot or cold.

Fruit Salad Beverage

CURRIED CHICKEN AND VEGETABLES

1 package (10 ounces) frozen corn, carrots and onions with cream sauce
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
1 cup diced cooked chicken
In a covered saucepan, over medium heat, bring the frozen vegetables with their sauce and the milk to a full boil. Remove from heat; stir until sauce is smooth. Stir in curry powder and chicken. Cover and simmer, stirring a few times, for about 5 minutes. Stir in little milk if sauce is too thick. Makes about 2-3 cups - 3 servings.

Springlike Salad Idea

A spring-like salad that can be enjoyed the year-round is made by thawing frozen strawberries and folding into strawberry gelatin along with canned peach slices and grapefruit. Secure only 1 cup boiling water, adding syrup from strawberries and peaches to make the second cup of liquid.

Savory Oyster Stew Rich 'n' Buttery

Oyster stew, butter-rich and fragrant, makes a perfect luncheon or supper dish at this season.

This recipe for Savory Oyster Stew is named for the aromatic herb which gives it an unusual flavor accent.

If your herb and spice cupboard has no "savory," combine 1/4 teaspoon each of thyme and marjoram.

A steaming bowl of stew will make a hearty entree for the oysters and milk together provide plenty of protein for a filling main dish.

To make perfect oyster stew, the oysters should be cooked slowly in butter just until the edges begin to curl.

Don't overcook, for this will make them tough. The cooked oysters are added to the seasoned sauce and the nourishing stew is ready to serve. Recipe makes 6 servings.

1 pint oysters, fresh, canned or frozen
6 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon chopped onion
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon savory

Few grains pepper
1 quart milk
Paprika

Drain oysters; save liquor. Melt butter; add oysters and onion. Cook slowly until edges of oysters begin to curl. Combine flour, salt, savory and pepper; gradually add a little of the milk to make a thin smooth paste. Add remaining milk and oyster liquor. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is slightly thickened. Add oyster mixture; heat. Pour into tureen or individual soup bowls. Sprinkle with paprika.

Refreshing Taste Lift

A spoonful of frozen limeade concentrate stirred into lime gelatin gives a refreshing lift to a molded fruit and cheese salad. When gelatin is partially set, fold in well drained canned fruit cocktail, finely shredded Cheddar cheese and coarsely chopped pecans. Chill until

Hard Cooking Eggs?—Stir

When hard cooking eggs, for garnishing purposes, home economists recommend that they be stirred often during the first six to ten minutes of cooking time. The stirring motion sets the yolks in the center of the whites.

Use Hot Water

Always bake custard in another pan of hot water. This equalizes the temperature so the custard at the bottom of the pan doesn't cook faster than the rest.

In the cool, cool, cool of an evening few things, if any, are more satisfying than a Savory Oyster Stew like this one.

Colorful History

The legendary history of blue cheese says the cheese was discovered by a shepherd boy who left his goat-skin of milk in a cave and returned to find it had turned into a salt and pepper-flavored cheese. Today we find this blue marbled cheese in the dairy cases of the local supermarkets. Tasty American blue cheese has the delectable flavor you like so well in salads and atop hearty hamburgers. Especially appealing is the budget price tag on this favorite of specialty cheeses.

This Creamy Rice Pudding with Pineapple Sauce is chock full of good things. Milk, cream, rice and eggs combine to make a dessert with an extra bonus of nutrients that plays an important part in making a well-balanced meal.

Old Fashioned Dessert With Sauce

Here's a wonderful way to add milk to your family's meals. This old fashioned favorite dessert, beloved of children and grownups alike, is delicious served either hot or cold.

Have it hot the first day topped with this easy-to-make Pineapple Sauce. Enjoy the leftovers chilled and topped with plain or whipped cream.

1 cup rice
1 quart milk
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
6 egg yolks
2 egg whites

1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Pineapple Sauce

Wash rice thoroughly. Place rice in 1 quart cold water; bring to boiling point; drain.

Add milk to rice and cook slowly until tender. Add butter, cream and vanilla extract.

1/2 cup sugar and the salt. Beat egg yolks; add rice mixture.

Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in remaining 1/2 cup sugar. Fold into rice mixture with whipped cream. Add vanilla extract.

Pour into buttered baking dish. Bake in moderate, 350 degrees, oven 50 minutes or until set.

Serve hot or cold with Pineapple Sauce. Add sliced pecans and cherries if occasion is special.

Pineapple Sauce

Drain syrup from No. 2 can pineapple chunks. Add 1 tablespoon cornstarch to small amount of pineapple syrup and mix to a smooth paste; gradually add remaining syrup.

Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Remove from heat; add pineapple chunks. The sauce may be served hot or cold on pudding.

Gingerbread And Peaches

Juicy canned peach slices and warm gingerbread make a delicious family dessert. Frost gingerbread with a caramel icing and serve with peaches right as they come from the can, or drain peaches and serve shortcake, fashion with whipped cream and gingerbread.

Appetizers Are Quickies For Freezer

So you will not be caught empty handed when guests come to call, here are some quick appetizers to make ahead of time and store in the refrigerator or freezer.

Peek-a-Boo Pecan Rolls

Mix equal portions of crumbled American blue cheese and cream cheese. Chill through. Form cheese mixture into small balls, about the size of marbles. Place cheese balls between two pecan or walnut halves. Press nuts into cheese. Chill until serving time.

Fancy deviled Eggs

For fancy deviled eggs for relish tray, fold crumbled American blue cheese into hard cooked egg yolks that have been seasoned with mayonnaise, mustard, salt, pepper and bits of chive or onion. Stuff whites with mixture. Sprinkle with paprika and chopped parsley for holiday color.

Gourmet Pretzels

Place one-pound of pretzels in a shallow baking dish. Mix one-quarter cup butter, one-quarter cup crumbled American blue cheese and one teaspoon garlic powder. Dot the cheese mixture over pretzels. Bake at 325 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes. Shake pan often to coat all pretzels. Cool. Store blue cheese pretzels in air-tight container.

Scrambled Breakfast

For a late evening (or early morning) snack, try this for a treat. Scramble eggs in a Teflon-lined pan and just before the eggs set, stir in crumbles of American blue cheese. Use about 1/4 cup (1 1/4 ounces) of blue cheese for six eggs. Serve with toast or muffins.

Here's A Treat

Mix equal portions of tangy American blue cheese and cream cheese. Form the cheese mixture into balls and freeze. Roll the frozen balls in slices of dried chipped beef. Dip the frozen balls into beaten egg, then into crushed corn flake crumbs. Repeat the dipping process three times. Allow the balls to dry about 20 minutes. Place the balls in deep fat (325 degrees) until nicely browned. Serve hot with fresh fruit slices.

Blue Cheese Good Sauce For Elegance

Here is a delicious sauce that will turn ordinary vegetables into elegant fare. Beautiful white heads of cauliflower, bright green broccoli and tender asparagus spears all will be enhanced with this crowning glory.

The flavor accent of this cream sauce is tangy American blue cheese. This peppery specialty cheese lends a nice salt and pepper flavor to the vegetables.

After crowning the cooked vegetables with this zippy sauce sprinkle top with crumbles of American blue cheese and buttered bread crumbs colored with a bit of paprika.

BLUE CHEESE SUPREME SAUCE

(Makes about 1 1/2 cups)
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1 cup milk
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons cream
1/4 cup Parmesan cheese, grated
1/4 cup crumbled American blue cheese

Melt butter over low heat. Stir in flour and seasonings. Slowly stir in milk. Cook until thickened and smooth.

Beat egg and cream together. Add a little of the hot cream sauce to the egg mixture. Then return to the hot cream sauce. Mix well.

Serve on hot vegetables. May be made ahead of time and reheated in double boiler over hot water.

Turn a Bowl For Stiffness

To test the stiffness of egg whites for angel food cakes or meringues, turn the bowl upside down. This suggestion is not as risky as you may think. First, test by tilting the bowl on its side. If the egg whites start to slip and do not cling to the bowl, they need further whipping.

When you can turn the bowl completely upside down, the egg whites are perfect for your confections.

Mushrooms Create Stroganoff Genius

Even a small amount of leftover beef roast will go a long way when made into this meat extender Stroganoff. Dairy sour cream, the gourmet's delight, is the base for the well-seasoned sauce. The mushrooms are not absolutely essential, but they add that touch of cooking genius a Stroganoff should have. Serve over fluffy hot rice. Recipe for 6 servings.

2 cups roast beef pieces (more or less)
Drippings from roast or 3 tablespoons butter
2 onions, sliced
1 large clove garlic, crushed
1 4-ounce can mushroom stems and pieces
2 tablespoons flour
1 pint (2 cups) dairy sour cream
Tabasco, optional
Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper

Cut leftover roast beef into small pieces. In large skillet, heat drippings from roast or the 2 tablespoons butter. Add sliced onions, broken into rings, and the crushed garlic. Saute until onion is limp. Stir in flour until well mixed. Pour in mushrooms including liquid. Stir and simmer until slightly thickened. Add sour cream and season to taste with Tabasco, Worcestershire, salt and pepper. Stir in roast beef and heat just to the simmering point, do not allow to boil. Serve, as suggested above, over mounds of fluffy white rice.

Cottage Cheese Surprise
It is surprising how many people really "go" for the combination of 3/4-cup cottage cheese and 1-3-cup drained canned crushed pineapple when it is presented in sandwiches made with whole wheat bread.

Ways With Plentiful Satisfying Cheese

Cheese is a muscle builder; is rich in protein; makes many a fine main dish.

Of course cheese is good with pie, adds to salad bowls, and men like cheese and crackers or cheese and fruit desserts. But the smart cook doesn't limit cheese to "bit" roles.

Be expert in making such inexpensive cheese standbys as macaroni and cheese, potatoes au gratin, vegetables with cheese sauces, souffles, rarebits, a variety of cheese sandwiches.

Take advantage of the many ways cheese can be used to add flavor and milk values to your meals. One and one-fourth ounces of cheddar cheese about equals a cup of milk in several nutrient values.

In amounts of body-building protein, cheese and meat are about equal, ounce for ounce. That means cottage cheese, too. Never throw away bits of cheese. If mold forms, scrape it off. Grind or grate any that may get hard. Use it in sandwiches and cooked dishes, but try not to let any get hard or moldy to begin with. Wrap in waxed paper or plastic film and keep refrigerated. Put cheese with a strong odor in a tightly sealed container.

Cook foods made with cheese or milk at low temperatures to prevent curdling, scorching, stringiness.

Sour Cream at Home. When you need sour cream to use in a recipe, have none at hand and are thrifflily inclined, you can make some like this. Put 1 tablespoon vinegar or 1/4 tablespoon lemon juice in measuring cup; fill cup with table or coffee cream or undiluted evaporated milk. Stir. Let stand 10 to 30 minutes or until milk thickens. This is not for salad dressing, you know, only for cooking.

Cheese Custard Nutrition Bargain

Nutrition-wise and budget-wise, cheese is a bargain any day in the week. This concentrated dairy food is the source of many valued food nutrients so important to the good health of both youngsters and adults. In protein alone cheese offers approximately the same value, ounce for ounce, as meat.

The versatility of cheese adds to its popularity. Thinly sliced or grated, it blends perfectly with other ingredients as it bakes. Six generous servings; double if family requirements are larger, children hungrier.

4 cups toasted bread cubes
3/4 pound cheddar cheese, thinly sliced or grated (3 cups)
6 eggs
3 cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper
2 tablespoons butter

Arrange alternate layers of bread cubes and cheese in buttered 8 x 8 x 2-inch casserole, ending with bread cubes. Beat eggs; add milk, salt and pepper to taste. Pour into casserole over bread and cheese. Dot with butter. Bake in moderate, 325-degree, oven 1 1/4 hours.

Butterflies, Bows From Basic Rolls

What could give a more "homey" welcome than the aroma of fresh-baked rolls and bread? Happily, there is a revival of this art of home baking. Making bread and rolls is not really difficult and your family will cherish your efforts.

Here is a recipe for home-made rolls. From a basic yeast dough, several different shaped rolls may be formed. Even little loaves of bread can be made from the basic yeast dough.

If you plan to freeze some of these rolls, be sure to partially bake them before freezing. Then at a later date just pop them into the oven and brown them.

BASIC ROLL DOUGH
(Makes About 16-20 Rolls)
1 package active dry yeast
3/4 cup water, lukewarm
1 cup milk, scalded
3/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup butter
1 teaspoon salt
3 1/2 cups flour
1 egg

Soften yeast in warm water. (If it floats to the top of the water, it is active). Mix milk, sugar, butter and salt together and cool. Add 1 cup of flour and beat well. Add yeast and egg. Mix well. Gradually add rest of flour and mix well. Cover and let rise in warm place, until double in bulk. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Shape as desired. Let rolls rise in warm place until double in bulk. Bake at 400 degrees for 15-18 minutes or until nicely browned.

Milk Keeps These Handy Burgers Juicy

Everyone in the family is sure to love these tangy hamburgers. All the spicy condiments and even the cheese are mixed right into the meat. The small portion of milk will help to keep the hamburgers juicy.

You might like to double this recipe and put half in the freezer. Wrap each completed hamburger individually so you can remove them as needed. Yes, you can freeze the meat on the bun, and broil them right from the freezer.

HANDY BURGER
(Serves 8)
2 pounds ground lean beef
1 medium onion, chopped
1/2 cup grated American cheese
1/4 cup catsup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
2 tablespoons milk
8 hamburger buns, split and buttered
Mix beef, onion, cheese, catsup, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and milk together. Mound beef mixture on each roll half. Broil 4-inches below source of heat until done, about 12 minutes, or until desired degree of doneness.

Delicious Salmon Is Body Builder

Salmon is delicious, nutritious and body building says H. E. Crowther, acting director of the Department of the Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries.

He says that whether fresh, frozen, salted, smoked or canned, salmon is enjoyed throughout the United States because of its rich taste and adaptability to local culinary traditions.

Crowther points out that canned salmon is in plentiful supply and is being featured in many retail outlets throughout the country. It is a protein-rich food source which comes from the waters off Alaska, Washington and Oregon.

Persons desiring an easy-to-prepare and nutritious meal might try the following recipe for salmonburgers, which was developed by bureau home economists:

SALMONBURGERS

1 pound can salmon
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup butter or other fat, melted
1-3 cup salmon liquid
1-3 cup dry bread crumbs

2 eggs, beaten
¼ cup chopped parsley
1 teaspoon powdered mustard
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup dry bread crumbs
6 round buttered buns
Lemon wedges

Drain salmon, reserving liquid. Flake salmon. Cook onion in butter until tender. Add salmon liquid, crumbs, egg, parsley, mustard, salt, and salmon. Mix well. Shape into 6 cakes and roll in crumbs. Place cakes in a heavy frying pan which contains about ¼ inch of fat, hot but not smoking. Fry at moderate heat. When cakes are brown on one side, turn carefully and brown the other side. Cooking time approximately 5 to 8 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. Place cakes in buns. Serve with lemon wedges. Serves 6.

For further menu suggestions and helpful hints on serving salmon, write for the popular bureau recipe booklet, "Take a Can of Salmon." This 17-page booklet, in color, is free from the Canned Salmon Institute, 618 Second Avenue, Seattle, Wash. 98104.

Ice Cream Tops Molasses Pudding

Through the years vanilla ice cream has topped myriad pies and puddings to achieve an outstanding reputation as a taste-pleaser. Served on this old-fashioned molasses pudding, it glorifies it, making it one of the most exciting desserts we've stirred up in a long time. Ice cream and molasses have always had a special affinity and are at their best in this crumb textured pudding. Recipe makes 9 servings.

2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup (1 stick) butter
1 cup unsulphured molasses
1 cup water
1 teaspoon baking soda
Softened vanilla ice cream

Sift together flour, sugar, nutmeg, cinnamon and salt. Add butter; cut with two knives or pastry blender to resemble coarse meal. Combine unsulphured molasses, water and soda. Alternate crumbs and liquid in a greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch square pan (or comparable oblong baking dish), beginning and ending with crumbs. Stir gently 2 or 3 times around with a fork. Bake in moderate, 350-degree, oven one hour. When ready to serve, hot or cold, spoon into serving dishes and top with softened vanilla ice cream.

Gingerbread Ingredients Will Lighten

A basic recipe for gingerbread can be varied by substituting buttermilk for the water. Both baking soda and baking powder are used, to give it feathery lightness.

What a wealth of wonderfully good eating you can give your family with this one versatile recipe! And anything made with molasses becomes enriched not only with the sweet, mellow flavor that only unsulphured molasses offers, but with iron, calcium, vitamin B1, and natural sugars as well. An energy food, molasses is called "nature's most nutritious sweetener."

GINGERBREAD

(Basic Recipe)

½ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 cup molasses
2 eggs
2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon ginger
2 teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground cloves
1 cup hot water

Cream shortening. Gradually add sugar and cream mixture until fluffy. Blend in molasses. Beat in eggs, one at a time. Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, baking soda, and spices. Add to creamed mixture alternately with hot water. Turn into a greased and wax-paper-lined 9-inch square pan. Bake in a 350 degree oven 40 minutes. Cool.

Yield: 9 to 12 servings.
Buttermilk Variation
Substitute 1 cup buttermilk for 1 cup hot water. Omit baking powder, and increase baking soda to 1½ teaspoons.

Pear Conde Rice Pudding

Pear Conde—a Cinderella dessert. "A la Conde," a cookery term for soups and sweets made with rice, is as typically French as their art of preparing simple, low cost foods, fabulously.

By any name, Pear Conde is an inspired rice pudding.

To make, follow any good double boiler type recipe for rice custard, if rich with eggs, milk, and butter. Vanilla and sugar add flavor and sweetness. Sugar also delays coagulation of egg protein to insure a stable, smooth custard. When done, and while still hot, press the rice pudding into a deep mold or bowl. Unmold on serving dish. Surround with pear halves which have been pared, cored, and poached in sugar syrup. Or use canned pears in heavy syrup for convenience. To serve, top with apricot sauce. Decorate with tiny, bright colored glace fruits.

STEREO

Advanced solid-state circuitry replaces vacuum tubes and eliminates the source of distortions that have plagued other radio-phonographs. Equally startling is their advanced reliability! Magnavox Astro-Sonic Warranty guarantees solid-state usage for 5 years and other parts for 1 year; the dealer without charge for 1 full year.

Highly efficient bass woofers — were especially developed to best utilize the tremendous power of the Astro-Sonic Amplifiers—capable of reproducing low-frequency bass without distortion. Magnavox woofers give true bass, not just a "rumble," which obscures the rest of the musical range—making the definition of instruments—and, in general, detracting from the full beauty of the music.

Wide-angle exponential horns — reproduce the frequency to 14,000 cycles — the harsh sounds, characteristics of mid-range, horns, one for each only have the efficiency of 2000 re-create even difficult with a clarity and by any other means.

'Relax' Key Word For New Tivoli Customers

THE WELCOME MAT awaits you when taking the family to dine at the New Tivoli, San Francisco, where the key word is "relax." Gayly checkered table cloths encourage informality and the friendly smile of Owner Nick Finocchio makes you feel right at home. You'll be amazed at the moderate prices of the well-prepared Italian food which is impeccably served. . . . Few dining spots in the state of California can compare with the excellent food and service of the Cote D'Azur in Atherton. Chef Rene Canabou is hard to beat when it comes to the culinary arts; ditto, his partner Dan Biagi when it comes to playing the genial host. . . . If you think you're a regular at Bertolucci's in South San Francisco, you should meet Pat Johnson, executive of Penney's in San Francisco, who is another loyal visitor and diner — three times a week. He has the restaurant's number one credit card.

THE CELEBRITY GALLERY of sketches adorning the walls of the Carrousel Restaurant, next to the Circle Star Theater, is growing. New drawings of V.I.P.'s drawn by vivacious artist Ruth Griffin include County Supervisors Louis Chess, Jean Fassler, Robert Stallings, Bob St. Clark and Sheriff Earl Whitmore. Miss Griffin is at the restaurant every Saturday evening and on Tuesdays when a new show opens drawing "Fun-Pics" of diners and dancers. The two-minute profiles, at only $1 each, make any party a barrel of laughs. . . . At one time or another, almost everyone shows up for dinner at Bruno's in downtown San Mateo. Morris Wood, San Francisco Chronicle Recipe Writer, and a party of friends recently sampled the culinary offerings of Chef Bruno Fava and expressed compliments galore. . . . Rumors persist of a major addition to Villa Hotel. As of this date, no confirmation.

MULTI-TALENTED GROUP — Jack Bedient and The Chessmen, who made an instant hit in their first appearance at Bill Gilbert's Tiger Club a few months ago, made their return engagement Tuesday night. The upstairs showroom also features twelve of the most beautiful Tiger Kittens in the world.

IT'S EASY TO IMAGINE you're in Italy when you gather around the friendly piano bar or dine at Art Alfinito's Rudolfo's Steak House in Palo Alto. Romantic scenes of Italy, Naples, Capri, Rome, Florence — painted by celebrated artist Professor Robert Lupetti, glow with silvery luminous beauty under the special black lights. . . . The Resort Hotel Claremont in Berkeley recently had eight private breakfasts, luncheon, dinner and meeting parties on the same weekday — with over 1000 attending, but it was no strain. The Claremont has 37 meeting rooms with all modern facilities. . . . At Prime Rib Inn in Palo Alto, the ribs are sliced to order from glistening silver carts, right in the dining room. So whether you prefer your prime ribs blood rare or well done, you're sure to get just the cut you want.

NOT MANY PEOPLE SUSPECT that Louis Frutshi, urbane maitre d' at L'Auberge, is an adroit skier. He took a few days off from the rigors of the restaurant to visit Squaw Valley, last week, and firmly maintains he never took a single spill on the slopes. . . . The Fork 'n' Cork restaurant, San Mateo, also offers a popular catering service for both industrial and private gatherings. If you really want to "wine and dine" groups (of any size or occasion) in royal style, call the Fork 'n' Cork. . . . Welcome aboard: Cap'n's Cabin is a leader with its casual, relaxed atmosphere. This attracts friendly people who mesh so well with good natured bartenders John Peet and John Savini. . . . Marshall Reed, one of the stars of TV's "The Lineup," hosted a dinner party in the elegant Wellington Room at Phil Lehr's Steakery.

TURNOUT FOR AFTER-HOURS Breakfast Shows at The Trip has been most rewarding, so says vivacious Yvonne Modica, owner of this fun idea for early morning night owls. . . . Taste tip: the Nishiki Dinner as served at Toshio Kiyohara's Iritune restaurant, San Mateo. Included is Sukiyaki, tempura, Suimono (clear broth), Sunomono (salad with vinegar dressing), served with rice, tea and dessert. . . . Nightclubbers from all over the globe, including the Bal Tabarin in Paris and the swank spots of Montevideo, have applauded the offbeat act of Bobby D'Castro, whose gorilla striptease is a gasp-producer at Finocchio's, the home of outstanding female impersonation for more than thirty years. Bobby's King Kong-like costume cost more than $2000. . . . Although the bar room is closed and the hofbrau and dining room are opened daily, Luncheon fashion shows are presented Thursday and Fridays. The cocktail lounge reopens Wednesday, March 1.

Villa Chartier A Peninsula Tradition

Whatever your plans for future parties, banquets or informal gatherings may be, you'll be way out in front when selecting the beautiful Villa Chartier or exotic lanai restaurants, where the ultimate in savoir-faire is a guarantee. The Villa Chartier has long been a great favorite with the Peninsula social set for pre-evening functions, and now with theater activities being only a few blocks away, it's an ideal "pre-curtain call" dining scene. Many improvements have taken place here during the years, the latest being a new-look for the Liquor Store. Who is the master planner and overseer of all these specially operated enterprises? Genial Owner Emerson Murfee, an old hand at being the hospitable host.

Lobster Tails Added To the Putter Menu

Defy you to complete the full course dinner prepared by the television chef Dick Paulson at the Putter Restaurant, Burlingame Plaza. A heaping salad bowl and a tureen of soup are placed on your table, followed by a man-sized New York Steak, and a tantalizing dessert. Whatever you do, don't weigh yourself after dinner. Incidentally, Chef Paulson is now serving Lobster Tails in addition to his regular menu. Try the Putter restaurant on your next dine out evening. Wonderful food and plenty of it. NO MORE HOFBRAU SERVICE. P.S. If light eaters prefer just soup, salad and French bread, the tab is $1.75. All you can eat, too.

Pancho's, located at Five Points in Redwood City, has the answer for those who happen not to like Mexican food but want to impress their guests with the authentic Mexican dishes served. The plate to order is Barbecued Chicken, served with rice and a special Spanish sauce. $1.75 is the price and includes salad.

Last Saturday was one of the biggest evenings in the history of the Balkan Village. Turn-away crowds wanted to see the special Greek dancing of the evening. They also missed a surprise performance by visiting night club entertainers.

Richard Simpkins and Deedee Davis won the grand prize trip to Hawaii in the dance contests at Wayne Manor, Sunnyvale. Competition for the new prize of two trips to Mexico City have begun. Contact Manager Jay De Keyser about joining.

Overheard at Frances Anderson's Plumed Horse restaurant in Saratoga: "I get along well with my wife, Alice, except when she forgets the little things — like applauding when I come down to breakfast."

A World Coverage Of Antiques At Scotty Campbell's

For memories of days gone by, Scotty Campbell's restaurant is a showcase for antiques from all over the world collected by Owners Theresa, Mary Lou and Bud. The plush red carpeting and plaid accessories lend decorative appeal to exquisitely prepared meals.

Birthday Celebration Eventful Occasion At Hi-Fi Room South

Last evening, there was a big rush at the Hi-Fi Room South celebrating the birthdays of Bobbie, Dick, Jack and Lloyd, who all have birth dates close to one another. The question is, was the closeness of dates just a quirk of fate, or just another excuse to enjoy champagne and cake? Either way, it was fun!

Holiday Inn Group Meets In Los Angeles

Representatives of South San Francisco's Holiday Inn are meeting in Los Angeles, this week, to promote San Mateo County business and convention activity at the annual "Western Blitz" conference of the Holiday Inns of America.

Low Lehr's Steak House in S.F.'s Marina is now available for private parties up to 125 persons on Monday nights. Sydney Kamler was recently honored at a birthday party given by 20 friends in the private Executive Room at Lehr's.

Discriminating diners, who not only delight in fine food but love to match their meal with the right wine, will be on the right track when patronizing La Touraine restaurant, Burlingame. An impressive array of imported and domestic wines is featured.

Your choice of complete dinners for $2.50 are served at the Redwood City Sandbagger, Friday and Saturday nights. Entries include New York Steak, Lobster Tails, or Roast Beef. "Don't overlook the 'All you can eat' Saturday Buffet Luncheon for only $1.50," says proprietor David McSwain.

No matter how you indulge yourself with the exotic cuisine served at the Charm Garden in Belmont — with chopsticks or fork, it's always a tasty reward.

White Shirt With Tie To Match Giannotti Special

A sure bet: If you see Ron Giannotti, squire of the nautical Surf House, not attired in a white shirt and white tie (except when tending bar), the cherry in the Old Fashion is on me. In case you're wondering what a "Veal a la Picante" is, have Mr. Giannotti explain how it was originated. He can tell you, yes sir—in a few hundred words. Train your focus on the Surf House advertisements for week-to-week food and beverage surprise winners.

Vince Licata, the Peninsula's answer to a Dick Contino, went the full route, Wednesday evening, — from dinner at Omar Khayyam's restaurant to a cruise through San Francisco's North Beach "entertainment" sector. Vince nonchalantly informed your Bright Lighter the other evening at his flourishing Italian and seafood restaurant that he still has his accordion, and just might make the musical comeback mentioned in Bright Lights column last Friday. Hummmm.

Enrico Romano, one of Bright Lights' favorite Italian food and pizza producers with headquarters in Pacifica, has been a steady visitor to the Boat Show. Could it be that he has eyes for a speed boat? Enrico's fame is far reaching in the "hot rod" field. Who knows, maybe he'll take to the water in his search for speed records.

Maria Dolores and Miguel Santos have joined the "Holiday in Mexico" revue at Luz Garcia's Sinaloa cantina and supperclub in San Francisco.

Pete Brallier Opens Another Round Table

Wide-awake Pete Brallier, the San Mateo "Pizza king" owner of the Third Avenue and B Street Round Table Pizza Parlor, has hung up another "shingle" at 1207 Burlingame Avenue, Burlingame. In pizza eatin' words, Pete is now serving authentic early-English Pizzas, a wide selection of sandwiches, salads, soft drinks and draft beer on tap at two Round Table pizza locations. All food is prepared to go or eat in.

"Old Southern" Atmosphere A Specialty Since 1935

Rene and Julio Donati's New Southern restaurant is one of the landmarks of South San Francisco, having offered "Old Southern" atmosphere and cuisine since 1935. As a typical example of the menu selections: Chicken Dumplings, just the way you like 'em, is a specialty of the house.

The Leaning Tower is a much-visited celebrity haven. After the tournament at the Presidio, last month, golfers Billy Casper and Arnold Palmer enjoyed dinner at this South San Francisco restaurant. Knowing Joe Ercoli's Italian food fare, it's certain they both gained a few pounds before the evening was over. It would be interesting to know if Joe picked up enough tips to help him lose a few — strokes, that is.

Business, as usual, is unusually busy at the International Inn Restaurant, South San Francisco, reports General Manager Phil Rauscher.

Students Arrested In Marijuana Sales

Two South San Francisco High School students were arrested on charges of selling marijuana Wednesday after police received a tip from one of their "customers."

Officer Ted Silvas arrested the pair, boys 15 and 17, at the school.

"The 15-year-old is charged with selling only one cigarette," Silvas said, "but the older boy has apparently been involved in several transactions."

Silvas said the youths' operation was "probably the beginning of a small ring."

"The older boy has been in school here for only a short time, and probably had not made many contacts," the officer said.

Police said it is believed the youths' marijuana supply was coming from the Haight-Ashbury District in San Francisco.

Both boys have been turned over to juvenile authorities at Hillcrest.

Sharp Park School Fete

Primary unit of the Sharp Park Elementary School in Pacifica recently held a student award assembly for the children in the non-graded program.

Awards were made for scholarship, citizenship, student council participation and recognition for outstanding service to the school.

Principal Thomas Collins in his "Statement of the Union" to the six, seven and eight-year-olds, praised them for their diligent efforts on the primary student council.

During the assembly, to which parents had been invited, the flag salute was led by Barry Knottmeyer, and Cristy Lanker welcomed the mothers and introduced Collins.

Jeff High, Teachers Meet On Program

Representatives of the American Federation of Teachers met with Jefferson Union High School staff members in Daly City last week to discuss "procedures for curriculum development."

Unlike the previous January 23 public meeting between the AFT, staff and school board, definite agreements concerning the district's CORE program (ESEA Title One project) were reached.

Emmett O'Boyle, AFT president, Dict. Supt. Edward Morgan, Jefferson Principal Ernest Ribera, Administrative Asst. Richard Coltrill and Jefferson Counselor Dion Dubois mapped out procedures regarding the CORE program for the forthcoming 1967-68 school year.

Deadline for submission of CORE applications under the Title One program is March 1.

Ribera agreed to meet with his staff to discuss possible modification of the present application for Title One funds already submitted to the State in an effort to fit it into the present CORE program at the schools.

O'Boyle will visit Sacramento with Ribera, director of special services Louis Martin, and former Projects and Grants Coordinator Robert Gross in the near future "to discuss differences which exist between the approved application and the existing program."
